LEVINE AND NEW PLOT ROW OVER DIAMOND QUEEN

Six Planes Set for Atlantic Hops.

On planes, three on each side of the Atlantic, were primed for trans-oceanic flights last night. The weather was generally unfavorable. The planes were:

Columbia (C. A. Levine) at Cranwell, England. Decide at last moment to postpone.

St. John Carling (London, Ont.) at Cranwell, England.

Raymond Windsor (Windsor, Ont.) at Cranwell, England.

Old Glory (New York-Rome) at Old Orchard Beach, Me.

Frank Courtney (Plymouth, Eng.) at Cranwell, England.

Isola (Capt. McIntosh) at Dublin, Ireland.

CHAMWELL, England, Sept. 6.—

Charles A. Levine today postponed his trans-Atlantic flight until tomorrow, owing to adverse weather conditions over the ocean.

London, Sept. 5.—A dispute between Charles A. Levine on one side and Capt. Walter G. B. Rishworth on the other, regarding the "Diamond Queen" motor plane, has been toned down. Levine, who has been flying the "Diamond Queen" since it was built, would like to fly it to New York. Rishworth, who is the owner of the plane, would like to fly it to New York. The dispute was settled by a compromise. Levine will fly the plane to New York, and Rishworth will fly it to New York.

GO WEST TO FIND IF HILL IS HILL; MAY BE FRIEND

Father Leaves to Help Youth.

Discovery of new evidence in the murder of Mrs. Eliza Hill, well-to-do divorcee of Streator, Ill., a crime of which her 22-year-old son, Harry, has been accused—was followed last night by doubts whether the youth under arrest in Seattle really is the person sought.

Reports from Seattle police led the La Salle county, Ill., authorities to have some doubts. The prisoner, however, said he was Hill, and in the absence of a positive identification, Chief of Police William Robb of Streator, Assistant State's Attorney Chester Jacobson and Sheriff Fred Clark, were on their way there to bring him back.

Father Goes to Aid Son.

Dr. H. C. Hill, father of Harry, who divorced the slain woman several years ago, did not appear to question that the captured youth is his son, and late last night was reported on his way to Seattle to go to Harry's defense.

Dr. Hill, it was learned, left Streator secretly Sunday night after his personal attorney, W. F. Jones, had engaged Attorneys Laine Summers and T. H. Patterson of Seattle to represent the accused boy there. Dispatches from Seattle stated that Dr. Hill was in long distance telephone communication with Attorney Summers from some point en route last night, and also that he had telegraphed Harry, if the arrested youth is Harry, to waive extradition and "come back and clear the name."

Among those who doubted the arrested youth is Hill was Charles C. Tennant, chief of detectives of Seattle. That official said the youth, while he maintained he is Hill, does not know how old the slain woman was, nor does he know other details concerning the Hill family.

Wrong on Mrs. Hill's Age.

"He told me that his mother was 51 or 52 years old," Chief Tennant said. "Actually she was 53, when she was murdered and buried in the basement of her home. It is strange."

Another point that led the authorities both in Seattle and in Streator to doubt was the fact that the young man under arrest is reported to have a mustache. Hill did not have a mustache, and the police cannot believe that at 22 Hill could grow even the semblance of a mustache in the scant three weeks that he has been missing from Streator.

It was in connection with the mustache, also, that the new evidence was discovered. This had to do with one Robert L. Honeycutt, a young man of thirty, who arrived in Streator within a month before Mrs. Hill was slain Aug. 13, or 14—and who often was seen with young Hill.

Authorities pointed out that it was a significant circumstance that Honeycutt checked out of the Plumb hotel in Streator Aug. 15, the same day that Harry Hill left that city, and that Honeycutt was not seen there again.

Might Deceive Strangers.

Again referring to the mustache—Honeycutt is described as having such a mustache as the youth under arrest in Seattle is reported to have. Honeycutt also is about Harry Hill's general build, and although he is eight years Hill's senior, might easily, on description alone, pass for Hill.

Those seeking Hill learned other facts concerning Honeycutt's sojourn in Streator. It was said he came there to see a sister who lives with her husband on a farm some 12 or 15 miles outside that city. After a brief visit with that sister he made his headquarters at the Plumb hotel.

Honeycutt then frequented pool rooms in the city and soon became known as a "pool hustler" and a "crash hustler"—an adept at the two games of chance. Hill met him, it was learned, and thereafter they often were together.

Often at Hill Home.

Honeycutt is known to have been several times at young Hill's home with him. During the August week when Mrs. Hill was believed to have been murdered, Honeycutt and Hill registered together three times at the Plumb hotel in Streator.

On Aug. 15—the night of which Hill and Honeycutt both disappeared from Streator—Honeycutt walked into the hotel. He was dressed in clay-colored overalls and wore a pair of shining new, well-polished shoes.

It was the only time he appeared in overalls. He always had been rather carefully dressed. When he arrived in overalls, it was recalled, loungers in the hotel were surprised.

CHICAGO YOUTHS' DRIFTING CANOE POINTS TO DEATH

Their capsize canoe with a slicker under the seat is the only trace found of two Chicago youths since they disappeared Saturday night while fighting a heavy sea in Lake Michigan near Benton Harbor, Mich.

They are Ellsworth Hensley, 20, of 1538 Summerdale avenue, and Stanley Pollen, 19, of 4421 Sheridan road, who left last Wednesday with two friends on a steamer for Holland, Mich. From that place they intended to go by canoe along the shore down to Bridgman, Mich., and they attempted that, despite the warnings of Capt. Samuel Carlson of the coast guard.

Stanley Stromberg, 3721 Clifton avenue, and Willard Hummel, 1248 Lawrence avenue, son of Attorney Andrew Hummel, 10 South La Salle street, were their companions on the steamer trip. But they took a sailing canoe and preceded Hensley and Pollen, arriving safely at Bridgman, Capt. Ben Carpenter of the yacht registry, one of the holiday racing boats from Chicago to Michigan City, later picked up the empty canoe.

While his sister and other members of a picknicking party looked on yesterday, Clarence Giles, 18, of 11563 South Michigan avenue, drowned in the Kankakee river six miles east of Momence. His friends explained that Giles sank before help could reach him. He was employed at the Continental and Commercial National bank. His body was recovered.

Police Guard Strassheim After Threat

Police were guarding the home of Henry E. Strassheim, prominent German-American leader and wealthy banker, at 5446 Wayne avenue, last night following receipt of an extortion letter which demanded $2,000 from him.

Early yesterday morning a decoy package was waiting for the extortioner and a half dozen detectives armed with shotguns were also in waiting. The letter writer failed to appear and at Mr. Strassheim's request a detail of police was kept secreted around the premises last night.

Fears for His Children.

Mr. Strassheim, who is a nephew of former Sheriff Christopher Strassheim, operates a real estate business at 5000 Broadway and is chairman of the board of the Broadway Trust and Savings bank, said he has no fears for himself, but he is worried for the safety of his four children.

"I can't imagine why any one would threaten me," he said to Sgt. Al Lauderale and Philip Dienthal.

"I have no enemies that would resort to tactics such as this. I'm not going to pay anything and I'm not afraid for myself, but I'm worried for fear harm will come to the children."

One of his sons, Arthur G. Strassheim, is president of the Broadway Trust bank. He, too, said he could not account for the letter.

"Have $2,000 on your basement steps Friday night or it's your life," the letter read and it was signed "M. C."

Mr. Strassheim said he could not think of any person whose initials are M. C. There is no significance to the amount either, he declared. The detective asked if there were any transaction involving that amount that he could remember and he said there was none.

Hands Not to Hold.

The maid was in front of the Strassheim home Tuesday morning, sweeping the sidewalk, the police were told, when a dark visaged man stepped from an automobile and accosted her.

"Please deliver this letter to Mr. Strassheim," he said.

"He is still at home and you may deliver it yourself," the maid advised.

"No, you take it to him; I'll see him later," she said the man told her.

She delivered the message and the police were called to the home. A trap was set for the letter writer and a package was placed on the steps, as the letter directed, but no one came near it during Friday or last night.

KISSES HER BABY, GOES FOR WALK, KILLED BY TRAIN

Mrs. Winifred Gregoire, 26, kissed her four-month-old baby good-by yesterday afternoon, leaving the child while she went for a stroll along the lake shore with Miss Ida Cullen, 4457 Oakwood avenue, with whom she was visiting.

Just as the two women started to cross the Illinois Central right of way near 4th street an electric train ran them down.

The mother was killed instantly and Miss Cullen's right arm was torn off near the shoulder. At the Chicago hospital it was said she may die. Hyde Park police released Ernest Griffith, motorman.

THREE MINISTERS ADDED TO STATE MORALS GROUP

Three more ministers, it was learned yesterday were added to the Illinois committee on morals in process of formation by the Methodists of Illinois. They represent the Norwegian-Danish conference which adjourned Sunday evening in Racine, Wis., and comprise the church in Illinois and Minnesota. The three are the Rev. J. P. Anderson, pastor of the Austin church; the Rev. Ole Nelson, pastor of the First and Immanuel church, and the Rev. S. O. Fodahl, newly appointed district superintendent of the Chicago district.

Posing for His Sweetheart's Camera, Is Electrocuted

Enclosed, Mich., Sept. 5.—(AP)—Posing in a tree for a snap shot being taken by his sweetheart, Olive Gunderson of Manitowish, Lawrence Larson of Chicago, was electrocuted today.

As the camera clicked, Miss Gunderson looked up to see her sweetheart writhing 45 feet above the ground in the grip of a 6,000 volt high tension wire which Larson had grasped to keep his balance.

Opening of National Offices First Definite Loudon Move

New York, Sept. 5.—(AP)—William H. Crawford, political writer and newspaperman, today announced that the first definite move to bring about the Republican nomination of former Gov. Frank G. Loudon of Illinois for President will be started by Chicago friends tomorrow, with the opening of national headquarters at the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria.

Woman Breaks Her Neck in Fall on Stairs; Dies

Mrs. Mary Wilkenson, 61, of 31 West Hickory street, Chicago Heights, fell on the stairs in her home yesterday, breaking her neck. She died a few hours later.

Hughes Home; Says Coolidge Will Win Again

New York, Sept. 5.—(Special).—Charles Evans Hughes, in robust health and back today on the Levitan after two months' trip through France, refused to say that he still stands on his "too old to run for the presidency" statement.

Actually, he declared, after first ascertaining that all the newspaper men were present, it is his belief that President Coolidge will be renominated and re-elected.

Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, accompanied by his son, Paul, and his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David W. K. Bruce, also were aboard the Levitan after a two months' yachting trip in the Mediterranean. Secretary Mellon was uncommunicative.

Mr. Hughes was more responsive.

"I am not familiar with the political situation," said the former secretary of state, former Supreme court justice and G. O. P. nominee for President in 1916.

Thinks It Will Be Coolidge.

"I believe, however, that President Coolidge will be renominated and re-elected, and for that reason I do not think it is necessary to add anything I have already said."

"Do you believe, then, that there was nothing in what President Coolidge said to preclude action by the Republican national convention to put him up for another term?" Mr. Hughes was asked.

"I replied."

Then the question was put: "Mr. Hughes, do you stand on your May statement that you are too old for the presidency and will not accept a nomination under any circumstances?"

Evidently discomfited and finding the subject not an agreeable one for discussion, Mr. Hughes drew back into the doorway of his cabin on the upper deck. For a moment his geniality disappeared.

"I have said enough. I reiterate that in my opinion President Coolidge will be renominated and re-elected."

"You said you were too old, Governor," spoke up an elderly reporter and old time personal friend of Mr. Hughes. "You certainly don't look it today."

Laughs at Compliment.

Bursting into hearty laughter, the mood coming upon him as suddenly as did the reserve on the previous question, Mr. Hughes leaned back, put his hands to his sides and enjoyed himself.

"I am feeling fine. Never felt better," he said. And he looked it.

According to George Nugent Young, secretary of the Democratic county committee, who also returned on the Levitan, Mr. Hughes did several daily marathons around the deck. Mr. Young estimated that Mr. Hughes walked from five to six miles a day. Four times around the Levitan's upper deck is one mile.

Battle Creek, Mich., Sept. 5.—(AP)—Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League of America, died at Battle Creek sanitarium here late today. He was taken to the sanitarium three days ago from his summer home at Little Point sable, Mich.

Mr. Wheeler was taken ill last Thursday with a kidney ailment from which he had been undergoing treatment for several years. He was removed from his home to a hospital and after an examination rushed to the sanitarium, where it was at first decided to perform an operation.

Mr. Wheeler apparently responded rapidly to treatment, however, and showed so much improvement yesterday that it was decided not to operate.

Believed Out of Danger.

A bulletin issued late last night by his physician, Dr. Lloyd E. Verity, said the kidney condition had improved to such an extent that it was thought he would be out of danger within a few days.

Today, however, his condition took a sudden turn for the worse and he sank rapidly and died about 3:30 p. m.

Mr. Wheeler's death followed that of his wife by a few weeks. Mrs. Wheeler was fatally burned in an oil stove explosion at the Wheeler home on Aug. 12, which also indirectly was the cause of the death of her father. Seeing his daughter rush into a room, her clothing in flames, the aged man was stricken with a heart attack which proved fatal.

Buried in Columbus.

Mr. Wheeler had just returned from Columbus, where the funeral of his wife and father-in-law were held, when he was taken ill. His condition was not thought serious until his removal to the hospital. Even then physicians did not consider his condition grave.

Mr. Wheeler had told his physicians that he felt much better and had asked permission to read in his bed. A nurse handed him a book and, as he lifted it, he fell forward, dying instantly. Dr. Verity declared Mr. Wheeler's death was due to a heart attack aggravated by the kidney disease.

The body was taken to an undertaking establishment and will be accompanied to Columbus by one son and a friend, Dr. Howard Hyde Russell, Tuesday morning.

Funeral at Columbus.

Columbus, O., Sept. 5.—(AP)—Funeral services for Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League of America, who died today at Battle Creek, Mich., will be held at the Central M. E. church, Columbus, at 3 p. m. Thursday, it was announced tonight by Dr. Francis Scott McBride, general superintendent of the league.

The Rev. A. O. Schatzmann will have charge of the service. Other speakers will be Mr. McBride, Dr. Howard H. Russell, and Dr. Ernest A. Cherrington. Burial will be here beside his wife.

OFFERS TO STAKE LIFE AS BLOW TO ELECTRIC CHAIR

(Copyright, 1927, by The New York Times.)
COPENHAGEN, Sept. 5.—(Thorvald Lervik, young Danish author, offers through the pages of Politiken on certain conditions to go to the electric chair to test the recent charge by Dr. Claudius that electrocution is barbarous because it never kills outright.

Barford is willing to make the experiment if the conditions of the execution take place under the same circumstances as that of Sacco and Vanzetti in the presence of European and American scientists and reporters.

Immediately after the electrocution under Barford's plan, doctors would undertake to revive him. The novelist wishes the state of Massachusetts to pay his fare there and back if he survives, and if not, to pay his widow a sum of money. If the electrocution fails to produce a fatal state then the state would agree to abolish the electric chair.

DRY FIGHTER SINCE 1893

More than any other individual, Wayne B. Wheeler is credited with the passage of the eighteenth amendment. As a result of his victory and his methods in obtaining it, he was bitterly denounced by all sorts of people in every section of the United States. But these attacks had no effect on his position in the Anti-Saloon League or his leadership of the national dry forces.

Accepts Hanna's Challenge.

"Young man," Mark Hanna said to him in the late '90s, "your kind of people are all right at a prayer meeting, but they're no good at a caucus."

"Well, sir," Wheeler answered as he left the Ohio boss, "we will see."

The outcome was the defeat of a Hanna candidate for the Ohio senate and a change on the part of Hanna toward the Anti-Saloon League that caused Wheeler to state in his "inside story of prohibition's adoption" that "from that time on we never had any trouble with Senator Hanna."

Wheeler's Inside Story.

This "inside story" of Wheeler, which the New York Times published last year, reveals a cardinal trait in Wheeler's career as a prohibition general. The narrative was written, even if unconsciously, with the air of a crafty politician revealing the arts and devices by which he succeeded. There is in it scarcely a note of moral enthusiasm. Though he no doubt believed in his cause many sincere believers, he himself appears to have been through-out one of the most intense rallies that ever figured in American politics. No party boss or chairman of a national committee could have been more intense than he in playing every part of the game for all it was worth.

Yet in his account of "What Prohibition Has Done," written in 1922, Wheeler called prohibition "a great moral reform."

Born on Ohio Farm.

Wayne B. Wheeler was born Nov. 20, 1864, on his father's farm at Brookfield, O. A few years ago he told a reporter that he acquired his first antipathy to liquor when a drunken Swedish farm hand smashed a pitcher in his leg.

While a student at Oberlin college Wheeler was brought to the attention of the Rev. Dr. Howard E. Russell, the father of the Anti-Saloon league, who was in search of an assistant. Dr. Russell told several Oberlin professors the kind of young man he wanted and each answered "Wheeler is the man for you."

Dr. Russell found the youth in the janitor's quarters, for it was partly by taking care of the building that Wheeler had earned his way through nearly six years of college.

Started with League in 1893.

Wheeler did not jump at the job, as he never had thought of making temperance or prohibition work a career. He only accepted after careful consideration. That was in May, 1893, and from then until his death he rose through all the ranks of the league organization, his first high position being the superintendency for Ohio.

Wheeler found time to take a law course at Western Reserve university, and it was in Ohio that he schooled himself in politics.

Moved to Washington.

When appointed general counsel for the National Anti-Saloon league Wheeler moved to Washington. He soon dis-

DRY LEAGUE FORESEES TROUBLE IN PICKING WHEELER SUCCESSOR

Washington, D. C., Sept. 5.—(Special.)—Wayne B. Wheeler's death in Battle Creek today was a great shock to dry leaders in Washington, and in their opinion difficulty will be experienced in choosing a successor who can exercise the influence that he did as the representative here of the Anti-Saloon league.

The passing of Mr. Wheeler confronts the Anti-Saloon league with a crisis on the verge of a presidential and congressional campaign in which the wet and dry issue may be a factor. This crisis the league will attempt to meet at once. Officers of the league are expected to meet in Washington within ten days.

Suggestions were made that either of two Ohioans, Ernest H. Cherrington of Westerville or the Rev. Edwin C. Dinwiddie, a former Ohioan, now in Washington, who preceded Mr. Wheeler in charge of the legislative activities of the league here, might be acceptable. There also was a suggestion of Bishop James Cannon Jr.

agreed with the league's manager, Dr. Dinwiddie, with the result that Wheeler was succeeded and Dinwiddie left the organization.

Since then Wheeler has directed the national political activities as well as the legal affairs of the league. He had a large part in the drafting of the Volstead act.

Wheeler's salary lately has been $3,000 a year, and his friends say that the last increase of $2,000 was made over his protest.

DRY CHIEF RAKES AL SMITH; ASKS HELP OF CITIZENS

New York Too Big a Job for U. S., Lowman Says

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 5.—(P)—An attack on Gov. Smith and other New York state officials for failure to provide enforcement laws and a plea to the general public to help solve enforcement problems by reporting to Washington if they "know of a still or a brewery anywhere" were made today by Assistant Secretary Seymour L. Lowman of the treasury, in charge of prohibition.

Despite lack of state enforcement laws, he said in an address before an annual outing of the Methodist Episcopal churches of western New York, temperance and sobriety were on the gain in New York and everywhere else.

Calls It Joint Responsibility.

Declaring that with prohibition a joint responsibility placed upon the nation and the states to carry it out, he asked what New York had done about it.

"You know," he said, adding: "Under the leadership of Alfred Emanuel Smith, our governor, who now wants to be President, every law on the statute books of New York

PARADE OF KLANSMEN BRINGS RIOT; POLICE USE CLUBS TO STOP IT

Bethel, Pa., Sept. 5.—(P)—Police with swinging clubs today quelled a disturbance which developed when about 1,000 Ku Klux Klansmen paraded here. A number of persons were arrested and several were slightly injured in combats between the Klansmen and with police.

Reverent of the marchers' when spectators lining the route of the parade jeered and booed was said to have started the trouble. When a number of the Klansmen started a scuffle with the bystanders confusion soon reigned all along the line.

Twenty-five policemen from Philadelphia and ten state troopers swung into action at the center of the disturbance and soon parted the factions. Almost a score were held in jail.

The marchers, in accordance with an agreement, wore only their capes and hoods, without the masks, in their parade.

state dealing with the liquor traffic was repeated, except the provision that it is a misdemeanor to be found drunk in a public place. They evidently overlooked that law or it would have gone, too."

New York Too Big a Job.

Explaining why the federal government does not step in and police the state of New York, he declared that in the face of this "open opposition of the state and local officers, it would require an army of 30,000 prohibition agents to handle a proposition like that."

Mr. Lowman said he had received hundreds of letters from people of the state urging attention to "what are ordinarily looked upon as police court matters." Most of them, he added, complained that "John or Joe did not bring home his pay last week," "he used it for drink," "we have no food to eat."

"That is the kind of work that would now be done by your police officers if Gov. Smith had not signed the repeal bill," he asserted.

Rum row, he continued, had disappeared from New York harbor, and the greatest trouble now was being experienced off Florida, where "rum hounds have recently said they would kill two coast guardsmen for every rum runner who is shot."

His Money on Coast Guard.

"I want to place my money on the coast guard," he said. "They will take care of themselves."

The assistant secretary said that more than 150 stills had been put out of business in New York state in the last two months, and asked his audience to "write to Lowman at Washington and he will answer your letter right away." If they discovered a still or brewery.

Secretary Lowman's speech was his first public pronouncement since his appointment to the position as national administrator. He said that President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon are in favor of strict enforcement of the law and that he has been given a free hand to accomplish this aim.

MAYOR LEAVES TONIGHT FOR HIS TOUR OF WEST

Mayor William Hale Thompson leaves tonight for Minneapolis, Minn., to fulfill the first of his speaking engagements as chairman of the Chicago flood control conference. This tour will take him to Omaha, Denver, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Albuquerque, Topeka and Kansas City.

Accompanying Mayor Thompson in a private business car will be Charles V. Barrett, member of the board of review; William Loring, former United States senator; Charles E. Hursey, and two of the mayor's official staff, Frank Butow and Robert J. Lyman. State Attorney Robert H. Crowe is to join the party at San Francisco.

COOK COUNTY CAN PAY $20,000,000 TAX FOR ROADS

Best Laying Power Due to Oversight.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The Cook county board, in addition to the $15,000,000 bond issue and increase in the gasoline tax, acquired the last legislative power to pay $20,000,000 a year for the construction and improvement of roads and bridges, it was revealed yesterday.

The board acquired the power to pay this amount $20,000,000 a year in the last legislative session, but the board did not exercise it until yesterday.

NEW CHIEF JUSTICE SWORN IN

Chief Justice W. V. Brothers.

Judge William V. Brothers yesterday assumed his new position as chief justice of the criminal court, replacing the retiring chief justice, William J. Lindsay.

The criminal courts will officially open for the fall term today. The court will be composed of Judges Brothers, Otto Kerner, Stanley Karkowski, Emanuel Miller, Harry B. Miller, John P. McGorty, and Worth E. Caylor.

The status of the latter, however, is puzzling his associates, because he has announced that he will not take the Criminal court assignment and has threatened the civil court clerk with contempt if he is not furnished a law calendar.

Judge Brothers, however, yesterday assigned him a Criminal court calendar.

The case of Russell Scott, who has been indicted for hanging since 1925, will be the first big case to occupy the attention of the Criminal court.

His new trial on the insanity issue is set for Sept. 12. If he is found sane at this trial he will be hanged; if not, he will be returned to Chester asylum.

cents this assessed valuation would mean $4,432,150 for road construction a year. But the assessed valuation was doubled and the quadrennial valuation this year will boost values some, so that the assessed valuation of the county next year can safely be estimated at $4,432,000,000.

Other Big Sums Available. On top of this huge sum, the county obtained the approval of a bond issue of $15,000,000 last November for road construction. At that time it was announced that this sum will widen 122.9 miles of roads to 40 feet, build 249.5 miles of new roads 20 feet wide, widen shoulders and bridges on 35.5 miles of roads and also build 57 miles of streets in incorporated municipalities to connect them with the county highways.

Also at that time it was represented that the state would refund $7,000,000 to the county or nearly half it proposed to spend. In addition, it was said the state would spend between $10,000,000 and $12,000,000 from its $100,000,000 road bond issue in highways within Cook county.

Little has been told the public lately about these two last mentioned items.

The county commissioners are proceeding to spend the $15,000,000 bond issue. Twenty-two road and bridge contracts were awarded Aug. 24, on bids received Aug. 22, by the board.

It was asserted officially by George A. Quinn, county superintendent of highways at that time, that the county board this year is paying an average of $36,004 a mile for roads as compared with $31,533 paid by the state for roads in Cook county it is building this year.

But regardless of how many miles the public obtains for the $15,000,000 it is pointed out that roads cost more by bond issue money than by cash. The roads obtained for the $15,000,000 bond issue will actually cost $21,400,000 because of the interest which must be paid on the bonds.

The Gasoline Tax Estimate. In addition to this $15,000,000 bond issue for roads, under Attorney General Carlstrom's ruling, the county has the windfall power of $20,000,000 more estimated in the state before the law was passed at $14,000,000 a year, will give Cook county some cash for road building.

President Carlstrom has estimated that Cook county will pay $5,000,000 a year in gasoline taxes and minus certain deductions the county is to get one half of that amount.

These millions and millions at the command of the county board arouse curiosity as to the number of roads to be built and their estimated cost. On Aug. 10 the county superintendent of highways notified the county board that the legislature had designated 249 miles more of state aid roads in Cook county.

In Cook county at the beginning of the year there were 484.85 miles of concrete highways.

Under the new gasoline tax, the county will receive $20,000,000 a year, but the state will refund $7,000,000 to the county or nearly half it proposed to spend. In addition, it was said the state would spend between $10,000,000 and $12,000,000 from its $100,000,000 road bond issue in highways within Cook county.

CRAZED NEGRO'S KILLED IN SIEGE; 5 OFFICERS SHOT

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 5.—(AP)—The body of Wesley Cooksey, Negro, 40 years old, riddled with bullets, was dragged from his burning home here tonight after dozens of tear bombs had been hurled into the house.

Five policemen, who attempted to enter the place after Cooksey threatened to kill his wife, were injured, two seriously. Cooksey held the officers at bay for three hours. Police set fire to the house in an effort to drive him out.

Chief of Police Harry Anderson was shot in the hand, Edward Sutcliffe, chief of detectives, was shot in the abdomen and was in a serious condition. Ray Langford, patrolman, was wounded in the head. It is believed both will recover, however. The Negro at one time was an inmate of an asylum.

Butte, Mont., Turns Out to Welcome Lindbergh

Butte, Mont., Sept. 5.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who five years ago was an unknown "Gypsy" flyer, barnstormed in Montana, returned today to receive the plaudits of 50,000 persons, who gave him the most enthusiastic welcome Butte has ever known.

Approximately 15,000 cheered him when he landed at the municipal airport. There were 10,000 at Clark park to hear him talk and thousands lined the streets from the park to a hotel uptown as he passed in parade.

GO WEST TO FIND IF HILL IS HILL; MAY BE FRIEND

Father Leaves Streator to Help Youth.

the hotel lobby joked with him. He was silent a moment then laughed. "O," he said, "I'm all dressed to go over to La Salle. I'm going over there tomorrow to hustle some pool and I want the boys to think I'm a rube like they are."

And he fished a speck from the shining shoes. Authorities last night carefully put into a safe spot a pair of old, clay-covered shoes found in the basement of the Hill home near the grave, only 18 inches deep, in which the body of Mrs. Hill had been tossed.

On the three occasions during the week of the murder, when young Hill and Honeycutt both registered at the hotel, they did not come in together, but appeared to be trying to make some pretense of being strangers.

Honeycutt would come in first, usually between 2:30 and 4 o'clock in the morning, the clerk said. He would write his name in a flowing hand on the register, stating he was from Little Rock, Ark. After a few minutes Hill would come. He would appear nervous and scrawl his name hastily down on the book, placing behind it as he laughed lamely "New York City."

Auto Sale Brings Arrest.

The arrest was made because the man taken in Seattle had sold Harry Hill's automobile to a second hand dealer.

"I'm from Minnesota and my name is Jackson," the suspect said. A search of his room disclosed Illinois license plates No. 102864, the same as were issued to Harry Hill at Streator, Ill. That satisfied the detectives.

A further search of his effects produced a photograph of Hill's fiancée, Miss Alice Sawyer, and a card case with the name Harry Hill stamped on it and containing a receipt:

"Received of Dr. H. C. Hill, $50, Blue lodge fees for H. R. Hill." It was signed by J. E. Hill, secretary.

Denies Killing Mother.

"I'm Harry Hill, but I didn't kill my mother," the young man then said. "I arrived here last Wednesday night," he explained. "Of course, I knew I had been accused of killing my mother, but I did not kill her. I was broke and that's why I sold my car. I never saw my mother after Saturday, Aug. 4. I worked for a novelty firm in Chicago and came home to Streator over week-ends."

"When I reached home Saturday, Aug. 13, the day my mother is supposed to have disappeared, I supposed she had gone to Chicago for a visit." According to Capt. Kent of the Seattle police, the young man admitted he had forged Mrs. Hill's name to checks totaling $1,000 during July, and that he had similarly raised $400 in August to meet his gambling losses.

Chicago Woman Picked as Champion Husband Caller

Mrs. R. M. Whalen, 4616 Ellis avenue, was picked as champion woman husband caller of Cook county yesterday at the Palatine fair. Nine others competed, some calling persuasively while others used honeyed tones. But Mrs. Whalen's call of "Robert," heard plainly all over the fair grounds, won her the prize of a large box of candy.

Prices realized on Swift & Company's sale of carcass beef in Chicago for week ending Saturday, September 3, 1927, on shipment sold, were as follows: Cows, common to good, 8.50 cents to 10.00 cents; steers, common to medium, 13.00 cents to 15.00 cents; steers, good to choice, 18.00 cents to 23.00 cents; total sales averaged 16.00 cents per pound—A.C.V.

TWO DIE AS AUTO SKIDS OFF ROAD AND INTO LAGOON

Two Others Are Killed in Holiday Crashes.

Automobile accidents yesterday cost the lives of two Chicagoans who had come to the city to celebrate Labor day.

One of a party of six holiday makers to Chicago were drowned near when their machine plunged into a deep roadside lagoon.

George Bettens of Fremont, Mich., was driving ten miles east of Gary on the Dunes highway when he heard the whistle of a locomotive. According to the survivors, he thought he was approaching a grade crossing and stepped on his brakes. The machine skidded and toppled into water beside the road, becoming completely submerged.

Boy's Body Is Recovered.
The body of Clarence Markley, 3 years old, a nephew of Bettens, was recovered within a few minutes, but efforts to revive the child failed. Bettens' body was found late last night.

Others who escaped without serious injuries were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Markley of Hesperia, Mich., parents of the boy, and Mrs. George Bettens and her daughter, Virginia.

John Freeman, 19 years old, 1257 Madison avenue, a clerk in the Lakeside bank, died at Mercy hospital after a truckload of picnicers ran into a support of the South Shore railroad west of Gary. The party was en route to Fremont, Ind. The boy's skull was fractured when he was thrown to the pavement.

Back broken in an auto accident was Bridgeman, Mich., Eugene Benson, 34 years old, 3602 South Halsted street, died in a Benton Harbor hospital without regaining consciousness.

Witheim, 25, of 1557 Hoyne avenue, was so badly hurt that he was unable to tell how their machine was wrecked.

County Toll, Now, 645.
Three deaths in Cook county raised the toll to 645 for the year.

Benjamin Bell, 40 years old, was instantly killed when he was struck by a car in Arlington Heights. Glen

KILLED BY TRAIN

Mrs. Winifred Gregoire, 26, 4457 Oakemwald avenue, who was killed as she was crossing the Illinois Central tracks at 44th street.

Thompson, 1322 Jefferson street, the driver, was held for the inquest.

Injuries sustained Saturday when he stepped in front of an automobile driven by Ole Carlson, 4945 North Albany avenue, proved fatal to James May, 76 years old, 4211 Bernard street. John Bartholmy, 57 years old, 8410 South Laflin street, died at the German Deaconess hospital from internal injuries suffered on Sept. 2 when he was struck by an automobile at Loomis and Garfield boulevards. Phillip Blom, 331 North Sacramento avenue, was the driver of the car.

Boy Seriously Injured.

Donald Kelley, 5 years old, 4124 Berkeley avenue, was possibly fatally injured when he was knocked down by an automobile near his home. The car was driven by Miss Daisy Archer, 4055 Ellis avenue. She took the boy to the Lakeside hospital. The Hyde Park police, to whom Miss Archer made a report of the accident, did not hold her.

PUTS RAT POISON IN CANDY TO KILL HER NEIGHBORS

Hunt Woman as Children
Receive Three Boxes.

Kansas City, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Neighborhood quarrels and distorted jealousies were blamed by investigators tonight for an apparent attempt to poison children in a south side neighborhood here by distributing poison candy. The police were seeking a woman, perhaps of unbalanced mind, believed to be responsible.

Three boxes of candy containing poison were found by children in the neighborhood, but the apparent attempted poisoning was frustrated when parents discovered the candy had been tampered with. Analysis by the city chemist showed the candy had been poisoned with a rat exterminator.

3 Persons Become Ill.

In a fourth case, however, a box of the candy was sent to the home of Sidney Dills where a Sunday school party was being held. Three persons became ill after eating it. A boy told police a woman had given him 15 cents to deliver the package.

At the home of Fred Rahner, where one of the boxes was found, tracks were scattered on the motor driveway, and the police liquor raiding squad had visited the place after a quarrel with a neighbor about a Rahner child playing on the neighbor's terrace.

They Keep Shades Drawn.

Two other families in the same block are not friendly and keep shades drawn on windows looking on each other's houses. Anonymous telephone calls discussing neighborhood disputes also had been made, the investigators found.

RECORD TRAFFIC CREEPS THROUGH COUNTY'S ROADS

Auto Lines Continuous All Day and Night.

The main highways of Cook county and the through streets of the city yesterday bore the heaviest continuous traffic yet recorded, according to traffic officials of the city, county and park systems. Labor Day constituted both the end of summer vacations and the close of the double holiday of the week end. A compilation of counts made on various radial highways centering in Chicago indicated that more than a half million cars moved into the city area after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The chief characteristic of city bound traffic developed by the middle of the afternoon as far as 75 miles away from Chicago. From the south, west and north, on all the main arteries, the highways offered pictures of continuous grinds of moving vehicles in single file, traveling at various speeds, which diminished as the cars entered into the Cook county area and the intersection systems.

Peak Traffic Reached.
In the city itself it is probable that a peak for continuous through traffic was reached. Through Michigan avenue and Western avenue the procession threaded through the city from early morning in volume that approached capacity. All boulevards and less important thorough arteries received a heavier and proportionate burden of traffic, though neither during the day nor at night were such tangles reported as characterized the exciting congestion downtown on Sunday night.

Some of the city traffic checks which indicated the volume of moving traffic were:

Cars	Estimate, per hour, 12 hours.
Michigan and Monroe	4,163
S. Shore drive & Parkway	3,306
South Western avenue	3,003

In all the through city traffic the large proportion of out of state cars was noted. In the south bound lines the licensees from Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and New York prevailed, while in the north bound lines the licensees from Wisconsin and Minnesota were greatly in majority.

Limit Seen at Crossings.
The capacity of the single width county roads apparently was determined in a number of locations last evening. At intersections where the backed up traffic was never exhausted for hours and the vehicles going over the crossings were continuous from one direction or the other for several hours, counts indicated approximately how many cars may possibly move alternately per hour. Following were counts taken at active corners:

Cars	Estimate, per hour, 12 hours.
Dempster & Waukegan rd.	3,763
Milwaukee av. & Touhy rd.	3,132
Indianapolis & Irving av.	2,964
Higgins and Manchester	2,784
St. Charles & Mannheim	1,980

Differing from the traffic situation on ordinary week-end holidays in summer, or from such outstanding motor car movements as were witnessed at Fourth of July, when a double holiday marked the week-end, the traffic yesterday was heavily outbound in all directions, as well as inbound. Indications to traffic authorities were that the city had attracted a tremendous number of motorist visitors from throughout the Chicago land area.

On into the Night.
Shortly before midnight reports from the county police in charge of the traffic on county highways stated that no letup in the continuity of vehicle movement had taken place, and indications were that thousands of returning vacationists would pass the greater part of the night in negotiating the journey into the city, especially on highways leading from Wisconsin and the Indiana resort region.

BOY PLAYS WITH FIRE; DIES.

Bruno Alvitto, 19, was shot in the left arm last night, and three companions, Michael Burns, 16, Joseph Kasmelen, 17, and Lawrence Fathman, 18, were captured after the four had robbed the Kemper Motorcycles company at 1807 South Michigan avenue. Policeman William Best saw the boys walking down the street after proving the motorcycle shop and started to question them. They ran and he gave chase, at last firing several shots.

Alvitto was arrested when he applied at St. Luke's hospital for first aid. The others were captured in an abandoned building at 1857 South Michigan avenue.

1,866 SEE CITY IN DAY FROM TRIBUNE TOWER

Crowd Sets Record; 11
Nations Represented.

Visitors from four continents and seven foreign countries saw Chicago and its environs yesterday from the Tribune tower observatory. The size of the crowd, numbering 1,866, broke previous records for one day. Bright sunshine, turning Lake Michigan into an unruffled sheet of blue and bringing out the loop's skyscrapers in clear relief, made the view one of the most ideal for weeks. With factories shut down for Labor day, the city's usual smoke pall was partially lifted.

Observers said they saw the Michigan shore of the lake; the steel mills of the south and the Evanston light-house to the north. The observatory also furnished an excellent view of the crowds in Grant park and the Buckingham Fountain.

Seven from Denmark. Among the visitors from other lands, Denmark led the list with seven, from Germany, Sweden, and Canada there were four each; from China, three; South Africa, two; Mexico, two; Norway, two; England, one; India, one; Japan, one; and Hawaii, one.

The last person to sign in the observatory's guest book was Mr. Yu Li of Shanghai, China. He declared that he had never surveyed a more beautiful panorama anywhere in his travels. Another visitor wrote in the book, "The nearest I've ever been to heaven," and a third, "Best only by an airplane ride." One girl wrote, "I'm afraid to look," and her friend, who did look, simply, "O, gee!"

200,000 Visit Tower. In the two years and five weeks since the tower has been open to the public, approximately 200,000 persons have visited it. The biggest day's attendance prior to yesterday was 1,729 on Labor day a year ago.

A hundred and fifty early risers went up yesterday within a half hour after the observatory opened at 9:30 a. m. By noon the number had mounted to 1,100. Fifteen or twenty late comers arrived after closing time at 5 p. m. and asked in vain to be permitted to take the trip.

BRAWLER CHARGED WITH ASSAULT. Vernon Russell, 38 years old, 2315 West Madison street, who injured George Grant, 40 years old, probably fatally, in a drunken brawl early Sunday morning, was booked yesterday at the Warren avenue station on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

GLOOM SHROUDS OPENING OF 8TH LEAGUE MEETING

Failure of Disarm Parley
Causes Pessimism.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
(Copyright, 1927, By The Chicago Tribune.)

GENEVA, Sept. 5.—Large, gloom shrouded, the opening of the eighth annual assembly of the league of nations today. Even the installation of a cocktail bar for delegates in the lobby, where a genial barmaid mixed fizzes, rickies and Martinis, failed to arouse enthusiasm.

The failure of the league's disarmament meeting this spring, and the collapse of President Coolidge's three power naval parley in August, as well as the lack of results from the economic conference, despite the presence of the Russian soviets, all combined to bring about the air of pessimism.

The absence of Lord Robert Cecil, most fervent exponent of the abolition of armaments, caused apprehension, especially among representatives of the little peoples, although both M. Paul Boncour and Dr. Gustave Stresemann, the representatives of France and Germany, respectively, announced their intentions of clamoring for a reduction of arms.

League Officials Blame U. S.

League officials tried to alibi the disarmament conference failure, blaming it on the United States' insistence on calling a separate naval conference for the big powers.

Baron Ishii was another absentee, the veteran Japanese ambassador to France having been succeeded by Minister Adato, Tokio's plenipotentiary to Brussels, and M. de Jouvenel, the

10,000 CHEER VICTOR IN TERRAPIN DERBY; WINS $3,870 PURSE

Ponca City, Okla., Sept. 5.—(AP)—Urged on by ten thousand lusty voices after he had faltered within six feet of his goal, Billy B., owned by Mayor Dale Beaver of Fairfax, Okla., today won the fourth annual terrapin derby at the 101 ranch over a field of 50 other turtles. Billy B.'s time for the 75 foot course was 1 minute, 28 1/2 seconds.

Buddy, owned by Bobby Barger, six year old Fairfax boy, took second place, coming over the line after following five feet behind Billy B. the entire distance. Beaver received a purse of $3,870.

Jovial French delegate, who recently resigned because the Paris government declined to trust important questions to the league, also was missed.

Another cause for alarm is the report that Canada intends to become a candidate for a seat in the council which makes many powers fear that the Geneva show will degenerate into a family party for the British dominions, although when the league was organized England declared the British empire only wanted one vote.

Island Seeks Security Pact.

Poland is making feverish efforts to line up support for an "Eastern Locarno pact," guaranteeing its frontiers, like the Rhine security pact. The Warsaw delegates base their demand on the fears of Russia, as with Germany a member of the league they do not dare formally voice their suspicions of the Germans.

The biggest row in sight is Hungary's demand for the protection of the Magyar minorities in Roumania. The Trianon treaty handed over Transylvania to the Bucharest government. Since then most of the large land owners there have been expropriated by the Roumanian government and their property has been cut up and sold.

Dr. Alberto N. Guani, Uruguayan minister to France, was elected president of the assembly.

JACKSON SEEKS TO SPEED WORK ON LINK BRIDGE

On his return last night from a month's absence, President David H. Jackson of the Lincoln park board announced that he intends to look into the affairs of the outer boulevard link bridge and that by the end of the week he may be able to report progress in clearing the way for its construction.

While he was away Mr. Jackson said that he had instructed Lincoln park engineers to study construction costs in building the bridge, the approximate cost of which is figured at $2,500,000. The engineers will report their findings this week, he said, and he may then be able to take further steps.

Whether the opposition of William G. Green, whose warehouse properties are crossed by the projected route of the bridge, has been diminished through the efforts of the Chicago Plan commission and other agencies interested in the construction of the bridge, Mr. Jackson would not disclose.

POLICEMAN KILLS KIDNAPER.

Policeman Traff Cota of the Cottage Grove avenue station yesterday shot and killed Arthur Clifton, colored, of 2438 South Wabash avenue, after the latter hit him over the head with a pipe. Clifton had stabbed Edward Campbell and James Johnson, both colored, before the arrival of the policeman.

12. Makes entertaining more pleasant, less burdensome.

Now, let it bring you new freedom from
"DISHPAN DRUDGERY"

Men, alone, could never have produced so simple, practical, dependable an electric dishwasher!

Five hundred representative American housewives gave us the information which enabled our engineering staff to create this new Model AA CONOVER, with improvements women want.

At last you can have a portable electric dishwasher that does for kitchen work what the electric vacuum cleaner and clothes-washer have done for other burdensome household tasks.

Just roll the CONOVER up to your sink. Let it wash and rinse your china, glassware and silver, eliminating all danger of chipping or breaking. In less than ten minutes, open the cover and let them dry. The china is clean, lustrous. The glassware and silver need but a touch of a towel to make them sparkle. Simple, quick, thorough!

Husbands who don the kitchen apron enjoy the CONOVER for the new leisure and freedom from drudgery it brings to them as well as to their wives.

The Cost is Very Small

A few cents a day is all the CONOVER adds to the family budget—a small price, indeed, for the marvelous convenience it affords in return. Every dealer listed below is ready to show, in your own kitchen, how economical and delightful it is to own a CONOVER. Write or phone the one nearest you to-day. If this is not convenient, mail the coupon to us for further information. The CONOVER COMPANY, 140 S. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.

SECRECY CAUSES MORE DIVORCES, SABATH LEARNS

Probes European Courts for Cure for Evils.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
PARIS, Sept. 5.—Judge Joseph Sabath, who returned to Paris after an inspection of divorce courts in all parts of Europe in search of ideas for improving the situation in Chicago, said tonight that any ban on publicity in divorce cases would prove fatal.

Wherever there is such a law forbidding the publication of details of divorce suits the number of separations has increased by leaps and bounds, Judge Sabath, who, after granting more divorces than any other judge in America, discovered in his wanderings.

"In Switzerland, where divorces are kept secret, the number has doubled in the last two or three years," he said.

The judge is prepared to accept the invitation of the Seine tribunal to sit in at several divorce hearings to see just how French justice, which is so kind to hundreds of Americans annually, really works.

Paris divorces, however, are not the shocking evils that many people think, and that he himself once thought. Judge Sabath decided after carefully mulling over the statistics. Due largely to the fact that most Americans seeking divorces in Paris are wealthy and prominent, and the newspapers devote a lot of space to them, people get the idea that Paris is competing with Reno, he said.

"But the real pity of a Paris divorce," said the judge, "is that it really is illegal. I think, for Americans certainly are violating American law, if not French law, which forbids collusion in getting a divorce. Coming to Paris together to get a divorce certainly is collusion."

PARIS FUNDS BOBBED AGAIN.
Burglars broke into the Remyre Pharmacy company, 1520 Cour de la Paix, and rifled a cash register of $700 in postal funds, according to a report made to the postal inspector's office yesterday. This is the second time that the place has been robbed recently.

Rugs, carpets, drapes, bedspreads, etc., and clothes of all kinds, including shawls and lace

MR. HURLEY'S PROPOSAL.

American railroads, by the ownership and operation of shipping lines, can assure an adequate merchant marine for the United States. This is the proposal of Edward N. Hurley of Chicago, war time chairman of the United States shipping board. Coming from such a source, it is a statement that will command universal attention and respect.

In railroad ownership of mercantile vessels Mr. Hurley sees the way open for the withdrawal of the federal government from the shipping business, a policy which, he agrees with President Coolidge, he is commending as speedily as possible. He is typical of American business men when he prophesies that private enterprise must take hold of the industry of shipping in no small way but on a grand scale. And he is right undoubtedly; for it is the mass method that has enabled American industry, despite the high cost of labor and materials, to meet foreign competition on its home ground.

As agencies to bring about such a great and immediate development of the American shipping business Mr. Hurley finds the railroads ready equipped. They are already in the business of carrying passengers and freight. They are already represented and recognized abroad. They can command capital. For the railroads to enter the shipping business would mean merely an important extension of their present activities. It would not mean the creation of an entirely new enterprise.

One railroad—a foreign line, the Canadian Pacific—has made a noticeable success of its water transport. Mr. Hurley cites the Soo Line railroad, controlled by the Canadian Pacific, which will accept freight for foreign ports in Chicago today. If one asks why American railroads have not followed that example, the reasons are not difficult to find. It is another example of the reaction on the part of the railroads to their regulation by the federal government during the thirteen years from 1907 to 1920. That reaction took the form of a lack of initiative on the part of railroad executives and a lack of confidence in the roads on the part of the investing public. An example of the hampering legislation with which congress sought to complete federal control of the roads is the 1913 amendment to the interstate commerce act which, among other things, hit at the very case now in point by forbidding railroads from owning any competing shipping lines. That law has prevented any railroad from operating a coast or lake line since 1914.

Another drawback to railroad ownership of shipping lines is the fact that their financial structure is largely dependent on the will of bankers who are almost as international as national. Still another is the unwillingness of foreign countries to see their own shipping interests endangered by American competition. By threats of withholding rail shipments of their exports from railroad lines which might engage in water transport they have succeeded in putting another grave obstacle in the way of such a development.

These are not barriers to be balked at, however, but to be surmounted. The transportation act of 1920 has given the railroads a new start. Their right to make a fair profit has been recognized; their financial standing has been greatly bettered. Already an increased initiative is perceptible and there is no reason why this should not be encouraged to branch out into a new field of profit.

In answer to a willingness on the part of the railroads the federal government should do its part, not by offering general subsidies, but by removing any reluctance on the part of Wall street to an expansion of the roads into the shipping business, and by exercising any diplomatic pressure necessary to give such a venture a fair chance to compete with foreign shipping.

An American merchant marine is the goal for which every interest is striving, no matter how divergent may be the methods of attaining it. Mr. Hurley's proposal has the ring of soundness to it; it is based on the solid ground of private ownership. It should receive attentive consideration and, if found feasible, zealous support.

WE BORROW THE HORN.

"You will not find," says the music critic of THE TRIBUNE, "even in the most famous opera house of Europe, such performances of opera as have been given out on the north shore, twenty-five miles away from Chicago."

The assertion is sweeping and to any one not acquainted with the production of opera at Ravenna and in Europe it will be put aside as an expression of pride that is not only local but loco. But it happens to be true. There is no opera house in Europe that has so many stars of the first operatic magnitude as Mr. Eckstein has assembled at Ravenna. But that alone would not justify Mr. Moore's assertion. It is performance that is the test and, taking into account the character and variety of the Ravenna list, the level of artistic merit, we are confident, is higher through the season than that of any season elsewhere. The artists are of the first rank and they give their best. The orchestra and chorus work is worthy of them. The stage management is, within its necessary limits, the most intelligent we have seen on the operatic stage in America. The conducting is usually of a high order.

Ravenna has its limitations like any other opera enterprise. It cannot meet every one's preference. The physical conditions of its stage prevent it from attempting some operas. But what is lost in one direction is gained in another. Great spectacles are out of the question; but the intimacy required for the best effect in most of the operas chosen is attained, and we believe this is one of the chief factors in the success of Ravenna performances. A great deal of beauty and significance in the music and acting of operas is lost in the great spaces of the typical opera house, and thus the best of the Ravenna performances are likely to be revelations to an audience even when the opera is an old favorite.

Ravenna is a unique institution and an extraordinary accomplishment. Perhaps it is too good to last, at least on the high level it has reached today. But it will stay there while the taste, judgment, unselfish zeal and generosity of its creator, Louis Eckstein, are not withdrawn from it.

THE CURE FOR DOWNTOWN CONGESTION.

Week-end traffic congestion on Michigan boulevard called attention again to the fact that the city's principal traffic artery is no longer able to carry the load thrust upon it. The week-end congestion may have been somewhat more severe than the ordinary rush-hour jam but the difference was chiefly in duration rather than degree. The situation is virtually as bad for an hour or more every morning and evening.

The principal cause of congestion is the fact that the two outer drives empty most of their burden of traffic into Michigan boulevard and it is too narrow to handle the load. North of Oak street and south of Monroe street the congestion is not so severe. Relief will come only when the two outer drives have been connected with a bridge near the mouth of the river. The taxpayers have voted the money for the bridge and its approaches, but legal and other complications have been a bar to progress. As long as the outer drive bridge is not built the city is receiving only a portion of the return it is entitled to from the millions of dollars spent on constructing the outer drives.

Some relief could be had meanwhile by speeding the construction of the viaduct at Randolph street connecting Michigan boulevard and the outer drive. Oscar Hewitt in Sunday's Tribune told the almost unbelievable story of the delay in building this viaduct, a delay which not only is contributing to the congestion of automobiles on the boulevard but is also making it impossible for the Illinois Central railroad to complete its Randolph street suburban terminal. The delay, according to Mr. Hewitt, is the consequence of the city council's failure to pass an ordinance which has been under consideration for two years.

Meanwhile the railroad company's money is tied up in a half completed improvement, a strange reward for having been the first railroad in Chicago to undertake electrification. If consideration for the company means nothing to the aldermen, we should think that consideration for their constituents who suffer from traffic conditions on the boulevard would lead to action on the viaduct ordinance.

FOURTEEN YEARS.

A protest by a committee of the American Bar association throws a flash of light upon one of the peculiarities of our national legislative body. The association has been trying for years to get a measure of procedural reform through congress. The bill authorizes the Supreme court to make its own rules as to cases at law, as it already does as to cases in equity, admiralty, and bankruptcy. The proposal has the endorsement of every student of procedure, of the American Bar association, of the President, of a majority of the senate judiciary committee, and, as the Bar association committee boasts, of 99 of the senators; and while a majority of the house judiciary committee opposes it, 80 per cent of the house membership is committed in writing in favor of it.

The reform has been before congress for fourteen years. It has the overwhelming endorsement of instructed opinion and it is regularly strangled by a minority.

As the Bar association committee points out, two or three senators, availing themselves of the inordinate power given by the rules of the senate, which endow a handful with greater obstructive power than the President possesses, are able to block this sensible and well founded measure indefinitely.

Editorial of the Day

POLITICS IN CHICAGO SCHOOLS.

[Danville (Ill.) Commercial News.]
By a vote of six to five the Chicago board of education voted to oust Supt. McAndrew of the city schools. This action of the board was in pursuance to a threat of Mayor Thompson. He charged Supt. McAndrew with being too friendly with King George and with corrupting the youth of Chicago with monarchial doctrines.

Those who have followed McAndrew's work in New York and Chicago know that the charge that he has been guilty of un-American teaching is as groundless and absurd as if made against President Coolidge. It is a matter of record that when he was connected with the schools of New York City he was foremost in advocating a resolution regarding all teachers to take out citizenship papers and that he also worked with the president of the board in getting the loyalty pledge from all teachers. His series of patriotic articles, which appeared in World's Work, urging the saturation of public school service with the ideas written in the Declaration of Independence and the constitution, and his sharing in the recognition of the contribution of every national and racial group that has helped to make America what it is and promises to be, are ample answer any such ridiculous charges.

If Mayor Thompson should succeed in removing Supt. McAndrew on any such cooked-up charge, he will by that very act recommend this outstanding educator for a still higher position in the field of his service. The mayor probably could not do more for the cause of education in America at large, but it will be a sad day for the schools of Chicago when they shall be made the plaything of politicians of the type of "Big Bill" Thompson. Our schools, as well as the church and the home, should be kept untainted from the corrupting influence of partisanship.

TO THE BITTER END.

Sandy and Moe were in a party that dined sumptuously at a high-priced restaurant. The other members formed a conspiracy and departed hastily before the check was presented. Hour after hour the two survivors retained their seats, each striving desperately to appear unconcerned to the other. Finally Moe accused himself to telephone his wife.

"Daring," he said, "I may not be home tonight; I'm in a deadlock!"—American Legion Monthly.

How to Keep Well

To the limit of space, questions pertinent to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. Personal replies will be made to inquiries, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

CALLS COUNTRY CLUB A PUBLIC NUISANCE.

"THE country club is a public nuisance. The people who belong to these organizations think pretty well of themselves and, naturally, they do not like to be called harsh names."

The above statement is a quotation and the man who is responsible has the right to have his reasons given. "Almost every country club has a lake of some sort on its grounds. It may be that this lake or pond is merely a waterward on the golf course. Frequently it is a larger lake in which the members swim or boat. Sometimes it is merely a pond designed to lend an air of country poise, which the members can sit and enjoy as they sip and smoke."

"But whatever its size or its purpose, it is always a mosquito breeder in some degree. The best of these country club ponds merely supply a small crop of mosquitoes, enough to annoy the members and to furnish a few breeders for the surrounding country. Mosquitoes hidden away in an automobile, say, supply breeders for a considerable spread of territory. If there is much grass, weeds and foliage in the pond it may supply clouds of mosquitoes for the clubhouse porch, for the golf greens, and then have enough left over for all the surrounding country."

"In most sections of the country among the mosquitoes are some anophelinae, the malaria carrier. In some sections these mosquitoes are already infected with malaria and therefore the country club pond is a focus for that disease. In other sections the anophelinae mosquitoes all set for a visit from some guest from a malarial region. They bite the visitor while he has his supper on the veranda, and in about two to four weeks they are all ready to infect with malaria both the club members and the neighbors."

That ends the indictment of the country club pond or lake. Our informant then went on to redeem himself by telling how the country club pond can be made safe. These statements should also be given publicity.

"The banks, especially near the water line and in shallow water, should be cleaned of grass and weeds, and the water should be kept free from floating debris. The pond should be stocked with top minnows or gambusia. The Illinois department of health supplies gambusia for the purpose of stocking ponds to the people of that state who ask for them. Doubtless other boards of health do the same."

It may be advisable to oil the waters for a while. The control of mosquito breeding in a country club pond is easy and inexpensive.

DIABETES EXPLAINED.

X. Y. Z. writes: How does the sugar get into the blood of a diabetic? Does it go through the bladder into the blood or is there another route?

REPLY: You have the thing kind end to. The sugar is derived from the diet. Some of it is eaten as sugar, more as starch, and a little as lean meat. It passes the same organs, including the liver, survives the action of the pancreas, and circulates in the blood. It is normal for the blood to contain sugar.

Under certain circumstances the amount of blood sugar is excessive. Under these circumstances the kidneys excrete some of the sugar from the blood and throw it into the urine. That is diabetes.

LIE DOWN WHEN FEVERISH.

O. Y. writes: I have tuberculosis and every evening I get a temperature of 104. I would like to know if it is all right to use an ice bag on my forehead?

REPLY: 1. By all means do so if it makes you more comfortable. 2. You must stay very quiet in bed. Nothing else will do as much to keep your fever down.

A PUBLIC DISGRACE.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—(Press of the People.)—The alley at Oakley boulevard, near Madison street, is a public disgrace to the city. The wind is always blowing the old papers and other refuse so that the walks cannot be kept clean.

Report is made that notices were sent to householders in vicinity of the south-east corner of Oakley avenue and Madison street to stop dumping of refuse and to provide necessary receptacles for the accumulation of refuse. "Cans have been provided and there should be no further cause for complaint."

Chicago, Aug. 28.—(To the Legal Friend of the People.)—How can I get a divorce? I haven't any money to pay a lawyer. My husband left me three years ago and I have never heard a word from him.

Where it appears, after investigation, that a client is unable to pay attorney's fees, a divorce is necessary for the proper protection of the family. The Legal Aid bureau of the United Charities sometimes takes such action, but there is no other agency through which one can avoid paying an attorney's fee.

Legal grounds and that the payment will involve some sacrifice for you, will not sue. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

NOTICE OF DISCHARGE.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—(To the Legal Friend of the People.)—Is it lawful for a company to fire an employee without a notice or some pay in advance? If there is a law to that effect, please state it.

Depends on whether the employment is for the week or by some other period. Illinois cases tend to hold that the wage payment interval is not conclusive on this point.

If the employee is discharged without final ground during one of the recurrent periods of the employment, he is entitled to pay to the end of such period, although he can be discharged at the end of the period without notice.

MARGOT HAS AN IDEA and she rushed it in yesterday by special delivery. "Winnetka Worm is a goof," said she, very rudely, "if he thinks it takes sight to go from HUIT to SEVE. Four's plenty. But," she added quickly, "he gave me a grand idea. Why not let us choose word-change combinations for our favorite Who-whosers (some of whom the Colonel did leave out of her book, you know) you get them to work them out, publish their record along with their signature, and let us fill up all the pages 'For Your Own Word-Changes' in the back of our This to That. There are forty-eight spaces back there, and I've a swell idea for Paul Ash, the darling, and I know I can beat him and I'd love more than anything to have his signature to clip and paste along with the others in the back and front of my book (that's what I did with the jacket) and we could have a lot of fun doing it, and won't you be a lamb and say you'll let me? Please! Everybody admires somebody a little more than anybody else, and if you'll do this we could think up lovely two-word descriptions of them, and I just know they would do it for us and give us their signature and—well, it would be lots of fun. Will you, will you, WILL YOU—please?" Well, Margot, we strive to please you, and we'll do this: We'll put it to a vote, and if enough of you want to, we'll see what we can do. The motion is now before the house: Do you want to think up two-word biographic combination for your favorite who-whosers (not omitting those well known people you admire, but who have to date been given a kick in the pants by Who's Who), and have us ask them to give you their records in how they got that way? Also their signatures? [Let's see—what can you think of now to fit whom?] You have heard the motion—ALL IN FAVOR!

WELL, THEY TOLD us that Mr. G. Washington had an eye for the ladies and Victoria R. was enthusiastic in Italian and John Hancock was a bootlegger and Abraham Lincoln told stories that wouldn't bore a 127 debutante, and somehow we managed what you said, we know. But when Christopher Morley comes along and upsets our belief that snoring friends had "O rare Ben Jonson" carved on that time-honored playright's tombstone, it's too much. We've been depressed ever since we bought the September Bookman and read it. In reality, says Chris, the famous quotation was a stonecutter's error for "Orare Ben Jonson" meaning "Pray for Ben Jonson." Anyway, now that the biographic fool-smashers' attention has been drawn to Ben, we're inclined to think somebody ought to pray for him.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

SEPTEMBER 6, 1862.

FROM WASHINGTON, D. C.—The news from Washington is quite meagre this morning. It is reported that Jackson and Longstreet are at Lees- and that portions of their army have crossed the upper Potomac into Maryland, and recrossed to the Virginia shore, as though undecided on their future movements. The official reports of our killed and wounded in the recent battles reduce the number very greatly from the first estimate, while reports of prisoners show a heavy mortality on the rebel side. Gen. Ewell being among the killed. Gen. Burnside's forces have evacuated Aquia Creek, and probably embarked for Washington.

CHICAGO.—Mayor F. S. Sherman issued a proclamation calling for a monster war meeting to be held in the court house square this afternoon at 4 o'clock, for the purpose of urging upon the governor the immediate necessity of organizing the entire militia of the state. He asks that all business houses close for the meeting, at which it is expected that Gen. Curtis, Gen. Hiram Walbridge of New York, Gen. McCallum and Senator McDougal will be speakers.

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—The city was thrown into excitement by the report that Gen. Gilbert's force had been attacked by the rebels at Shelbyville, thirty-five miles east of here. The result is unknown, but large federal reinforcements are rapidly nearing Gilbert.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

SEPTEMBER 6, 1902.

PHILADELPHIA.—The Record of this city prints the statement in the morning that while President Roosevelt was in Philadelphia today he expressed the belief that the anthracite miners' strike will be settled soon. New York Senator Platt declared the strike will be ended within two weeks.

NEW YORK.—Gould and Rockefeller in a community of interest is the next great railway combine. The new involving a close sticking alliance between the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul and the Missouri Pacific railroads, involving the possible merger of the entire Gould system and the Rockefeller railroads.

ROCKFORD, Ill.—The great events at the Winnebago county fair were the automobile races in which three Chicago machines competed for silver cups. John Farson, Jr., was the hero of the day, winning the five mile open and the three mile handicap. John D. Fry won the mile handicap. Farson's time in the five mile race was 11:37 1/2.

BERLIN.—Prof. Rudolph Virchow, the noted German pathologist, is dead at the age of 81.

LONDON.—The Boer generals, Botha, De Wet and Delarey, held a secret conference with Colonial Secretary Chamberlain and asked for better terms of peace than those agreed upon at Vereeniging. It is possible the government will supplement the £15,000,000 assigned as compensation for Boer losses in the war.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

SEPTEMBER 6, 1917.

CHICAGO.—The government began the work of throttling the I. W. W. and socialist agitators against the war. Eight raids were conducted simultaneously in Chicago on homes and offices of the agitators and wagonloads of evidence were seized. Similar raids were conducted in most of the large cities of the country.

LONDON.—The capture by the Italians from the Austrians of Monte San Gabriele is confirmed, and the Italian armies now dominate the territory east of Gorizia. This was the last Austrian stronghold barring the way to a full sweep of the Balkan plateau. Rome reports the repulse of German attacks and intense air fighting. The Russians continued their flight, crossing the Livonia river.

CHICAGO.—The summer home at Eagle Springs, Wis., of Jacob J. Kern, formerly state's attorney of Cook county, was set on fire by lightning and burned to its foundations.

PORTLAND, Ore.—The Rt. Rev. Walter Taylor Sumner, bishop of the diocese of Oregon and one of the most popular bachelors in the west, is engaged to be married. His fiancée is Miss Myrtle Mitchell of Nagsawnee, Mich. The bishop whispered the secret to a few personal friends today in "strictest confidence," just after his return from the east.

MURDER AT ITS WORST.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Your editorials bearing on the Braverman case are timely, emphatic, sincere and just. It is a crucial case. For the first time in a long series of murders by protected gangsters, we have a case in which the murderers can be identified with certainty, and what is far more important, in which witnesses are willing to identify them and to testify against them. Usually the defense of the police and the prosecutor when they fail in the apprehension, trial, and conviction of cases of this nature is that there is insufficient testimony or that citizens fear to testify or will not testify because of the underworld code of silence. Here this is not true.

May I correct a statement of fact in the editorial "Murder at Its Worst," after actual investigation and conversation with all of the members of the faction and more than a dozen neighbors and peddlers who were present when the murder was committed? The editorial gives as the cause of the murder the refusal of the victim to join an association of junk peddlers in process of organization. Braverman was a member of the peddlers' association of the west side. He was not killed because he refused to join the union. The gangsters were trying to force upon the victim of these peddlers to impose upon them a tribute for which they could offer no service in return.

I found the mother of the half dozen children of Braverman sitting on the floor in their home, as is the custom of mourning among orthodox Jews. The wife is an overworked woman in poor circumstances, sickly; suddenly stricken by this great misfortune. The children, about five of them ranging between the ages of seven and fifteen, are delicate, perhaps predisposed to tuberculosis, so far as I could judge without the aid of a medical examination. As they sat on the floor, it was noticeable that no child in the family had a whole pair of shoes. There is a boy of 23 and a girl near his age, but due to the necessity for early employment, neither of them has training which would fit them for jobs at sufficient pay to keep the family. With one fall blow, for purposes of their mourning, the gangsters have reduced this struggling but independent family to a family of beggars. JACOB H. COHEN.

REVIVING OLD HATREDS.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 1.—If it is right and proper to attempt to prevent war by limitation of armaments, is it not equally relevant to endeavor to attain the same by limitations of hatred? It is a crime to instill dislike, contempt, or hatred in the minds of school children towards any nation. As the poet puts it, the minds of young people are wax to receive and marble to retain. TUT, TUT, LILA.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—"Tut, tut, tut," says Joachim Wilson, whimsical dandy and dry but society women are the ones who are the most responsible for the war.

THE LIAR

WOMAN TELLS JURY STORY OF TEXAS FLOGGING

Thrown Over Trunk, Hit with Rope, She Says.

Tyler, Tex., Sept. 5.—(AP)—The story of how she was dragged from bed by four masked men and flogged with a knotted rope after her husband had been knocked unconscious was related to the witness stand here today by Mrs. Willie Straps, 23, in the trial of Cain Anderson, wealthy planter, on a charge of violating the state anti-mask law.

Mrs. Straps identified Anderson as one of the assailants and named D. Osborne, a tenant on Anderson's farm, as another.

Makes Denial.
Previous testimony had dealt with the flogging of J. H. Richardson and his wife, parents of Mrs. Straps, who were also beaten by the four masked men.

Both families were tenants on Anderson's place. It was testified the floggers declared the punishment was administered because the Richardsons and Straps had not worked hard enough.

Anderson denied on the witness stand that he was one of the floggers. He declared he was home in bed and knew nothing about the affair.

Whipped With Rope.
"While we were fixing to go to bed," Mrs. Straps testified, "Suddenly four men ran into the house, one behind the other, carrying guns. They ordered us to hold our hands up, which we did. One knocked Willie down with a six shooter when Willie tried to get his gun."

"They threw me across a trunk. They held me, whipped me with the rope, and then let me up."

Choose from the Hundreds of Splendid Values In This Great September Sale of Bedding

The Sale of Blankets and Comforters, has come to be one of the most important housefurnishing events of the year. It comes early enough in the Autumn to give housewives ample time to make purchases for the first cold weather. It brings hundreds of fine Blankets and Comforters at sharply reduced prices. No need to look far afield now. Here are Blankets from the best of the foreign and domestic mills. Blankets of virtually every size, color, style and price. And there is an equally notable collection of Comforters. We have never had a more complete assortment. And we have never before offered, at one time, so many remarkably good values.

In the Annual Sale of Blankets and Comforters

Three Fine Holland Blankets

The 59x79 size, thick and fluffy, are $9.75 each. The 72x84 size, in solid colors with contrasting stripes, $17.50 each. Extra large and heavy, 72x89, now $34.50 each.

Three Popular Comforters

Silk mull, in solid colors, 72x84, $11.50 each. Sateen, filled with the finest wool, 72x84, $10.50. Down Comforters, covered with chintz, $16.50.

Blankets and Comforters—Second Floor, North, State

Specially Priced Sheets and Cases

Of particular interest in this event are the low prices which we have placed upon our ever popular "Soft Spun" sheets and pillowcases.

	HEMSTITCHED	PLAIN
"Soft Spun" Sheets 90x108	$2.35	$2.10 each
"Soft Spun" Sheets 81x99	2.00	1.75
"Soft Spun" Sheets 72x108	2.00	1.75
"Soft Spun" Sheets 72x99	1.80	1.65
"Soft Spun" Sheets 63x99	1.65	1.45
"Soft Spun" Cases 45x38½	.60	.45

These pleasingly low prices will prevail throughout the month.

Second Floor, North, State

Springs, Mattresses and Pillows

A 72-coil Box Spring, one of our own products, is specially priced now at $26.75. An unusually comfortable spring-center Mattress, with felt top and bottom, is also $26.75. The Spring and Mattress may be purchased together for only $49.50—a splendid value.

Pillows, 22x28 inches, filled with new live goose feathers, and covered with the best grade of ticking are now priced at $5 each. Pillows filled with swan's down, and as comfortable as any you can buy, are 22x28 inches, and may be had now at $8.75 each.

Eighth Floor, South, State

Bedspreads at Low Sale Prices

There are many different Bedspreads included in this sale—brocaded and plain rayon taffetas, Italian moires, and cotton fabrics, in many designs and color combinations. Prices are substantially reduced, and average lower than for several years. One of the outstanding values is the spread illustrated in the sketch below. It is a rayon and cotton fabric in puffed and figured striped designs. The 72x108-inch size, for twin beds, is $4.95. The 90x108-inch size, for full-size beds, is $6.45. At this low price hundreds will be sold.

Every Oriental Rug Is Reduced in Price For This Great September Sale

Without a single exception, every Rug in this famous collection of Oriental Rugs is reduced in price this month. You can choose from the largest single retail stock in the United States—from hundreds of colors, sizes and varieties—and pay a lower-than-regular price for whatever you select. This is an opportunity that comes infrequently. Throughout this month we offer you some of the finest values in our history.

Anatolian Mats, 1.6x3.6, $2.10

Colorful little rugs for the spaces between rooms. They are a splendid value at this low sale price.

Balukhissar Rugs, 9x12, $195

In rose and dark blue backgrounds, with fascinating designs. A very popular rug, now sharply reduced.

Persian Rugs, 3x5 Feet, $21.50

Their colors are soft and lustrous, and the patterns are beautiful. One of the sale's outstanding values.

Chinese Rugs, 9x12, $225

Unusually heavy and very silky rugs, in rose, tan, blue and gold, marked very closely for this sale.

Third Floor, Middle, Wabash

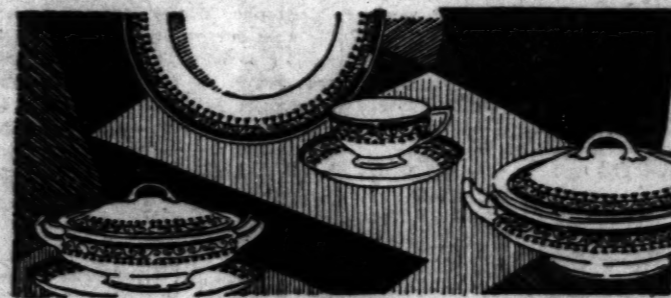

All Linoleums Are Specially Priced

In this important semi-annual sale you can purchase any pattern in this large and greatly varied stock at a special price. The new numbers for Autumn and Winter are included, products of the country's foremost linoleum manufacturers. Of particular merit are these values:

Eight Printed Patterns, 65c, 75c, 85c Square Yard

Eight Inlaid Patterns, $1.25 Square Yard

Third Floor, Middle, Wabash

Scores of Dinner Sets in This Annual Sale

Included in the reductions which this important September event brings are virtually all of our dinner sets, with the exception of Wedgwood and Lenox. Throughout this month you may choose from many English, French, Bavarian, Japanese and domestic wares, and pay less than the regular price for them. The special prices apply only to sets, but all of the patterns are open stock, making later replacements possible. The opportunity to choose from so many wonderful dinner set values comes but once a year.

Second Floor, North, Wabash

Stemware Reduced in Price for the September Sale

Colored stemware, rock crystal, Venetian glass, light cut, etched and gold decorated glass—every pattern in this famous stock—are included in the September reductions. Goblets, sherberts, cocktails, wines, finger bowls and salad plates and all sizes of tumblers. Illustrated is an imported pattern of great merit, decorated with a decidedly modern design in black and white. Its goblets, sherberts and finger bowls are $30.60 a dozen; cocktails, $27.20 a dozen; salad plates, $38.25 a dozen. And the unique water bottle is $10.

VANDERBILT AND NEW LOVE WED IN LOWLY COURT

Kissam Bars Kisses as Paris Mayor Orates.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
PARIS, Sept. 6.—With almost painful simplicity William Kissam Vanderbilt II and Rosemond Lancaster Warburton, Barclay H. Warburton's divorced wife, today went through the civil ceremony and tonight dropped out of sight again.
Mr. Vanderbilt and his bride, it is understood, headed south on a motor trip that is expected to take them to Italy, where at some port or other they will join the Vanderbilt yacht Ava, on which they cruised most of last spring along the Mediterranean while Mr. Vanderbilt's anxiously awaited divorce from Virginia Fair Vanderbilt was being rushed through the Paris courts.

Mayor Adds Color.

The latest Mrs. Vanderbilt received one of the most glittering crowns of the American social register with an astonishing lack of pomp. Only six people stood up at the "Salle des Mariages" in the city hall in the fashionable 16th arrondissement while Mayor Rene Bloch, with a red, white, and blue sash around his waist, read the banal state service. The ceremony would have been quite dull if it had not been for Mr. Bloch's fancy, which led him to interpolate a burst of pretty remarks which he climaxed with a quotation from Poe: "May you grow in age and love together."
With his stepmother, Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt Sr., the bridegroom drove up to the city hall a few minutes ahead of time and handed the mayor 100,000 francs ($3,910) for charity, as is customary when there is a rich marriage in France. A few minutes later the bride, who is a pretty blonde, arrived with her mother, Mrs. John Lancaster, Miss Emily Werlemann and Dudley Field Malone. The two mothers, Miss Werlemann and Mr. Malone, were the only witnesses. Mr. Vanderbilt requested extreme privacy, and only the provision of the French law, which requires that the doors be thrown open during a civil ceremony, allowed a handful of the curious and newspaper reporters to walk in just as the knot was tied.

"A Fairy Prince."

"You are marrying a man with a name like a fairy prince," the beaming magistrate informed the bride, while Mr. Vanderbilt looked embarrassed.

"and I hope your married life will be like a fairy tale."
The couple stood up and answered the mayor's questions with almost audible "ouais" and suddenly found themselves declared "married for the life."

Apparently at Mr. Vanderbilt's request, the wholesale kissing bee that usually follows the French ceremony, was omitted. There will be no religious service.

Mrs. Warburton-Vanderbilt wore a simple ensemble outfit of black crepe, trimmed in sable, with a hat to match, brown suede shoes and a single string of pearls. Mr. Vanderbilt dispensed with morning clothes and wore merely a double breasted blue serge suit, grey tie and no spats. Despite his tendency to greyness, he looked quite youthful. He was in rare humor and shook the hand of everybody in sight before the party broke up. All idea of a wedding breakfast was abandoned.

No Sign of Emotion.
The Dowager Mrs. Vanderbilt wore a black crepe dress with a touch of orange at the belt, a fox fur, and a black cloche hat, under which peeped her white hair. Mrs. Lancaster also wore black crepe de chine with a silver fox and black hat. Neither showed the slightest signs of emotion. No kissing whatever marked the festivities.

"What are your plans?" a well meaning onlooker asked Mr. Vanderbilt. "Don't embarrass me," he countered, while everybody laughed, including the chauffeur.

The terms of the wedding settlement, which the couple signed before the ceremony, settling all financial questions, were not known. Mr. Vanderbilt said they would return to New York sometime in October.

Mrs. G. H. P. Belmont, the bridegroom's mother, was unable to come from Aix les Bains, where she is taking the cure, and, due to the simplicity of the affair, Consuelo and her new husband, Col. Jacques Balsan, the sister and brother-in-law of Mr. Vanderbilt, did not bother running over from Baden-Baden.

LEVINE AND NEW PILOT ROW OVER 'DIAMOND QUEEN'

$250,000 for a seat in the Columbia after which eventually led to many complications. Upon Mr. Levine's refusal to allow her to fly with him she began negotiations with Lieut. Drouhin, at that time under contract to pilot the Columbia. Mr. Levine got wind of the negotiations and tampered with the engine of the plane as Lieut. Drouhin could not get away with her. This led to a big row with his pilot, who considered Mr. Levine's action an insult. Later Mabel was the direct cause of an altercation between Mr. Levine and Miss Bell's fiancé, Galen Bogue, who socked Mr. Levine on the nose in front of a large hotel in Paris.

Canadian Plane Saved from Fire. HARBOR GRACE, Newfoundland, Sept. 5.—(Special.)—Only through the united efforts of Pathe and Paramount picture men and newspaper correspondents, who were on the field with their cars, which were being used to give light to the refueling of the trans-Atlantic plane Sir John Carling of London, Ont., which arrived here at 4 p. m. today, was the big machine saved from destruction when a laborer pulled a wooden plug from a barrel of gasoline on a raised trestle by the light of a lantern. The stream of gasoline from the barrel hit the lantern and exploded. Within a circle of twenty feet were four barrels of gasoline and numerous five gallon tins of the same, besides lubricating oil. All this was in a blaze in a second. The big machine was moored with ropes and its wheels were blocked with chocks.

LEVINE'S "HOP-OFF"

The map shows Cranwell, Eng., in Lincolnshire, from which Charles A. Levine and his British pilot, Capt. Hinchliffe, are preparing to hop off on a return flight to the United States in the monoplane Columbia.

Capt. Terry Tully was on the deck pouring gas into the big tank through funnels. Lieut. Metcalf was pouring lubricating oil into the Whirlwind motor. When the explosion took place both jumped to the ground and shouted to roll back the machine.

Two cameramen cleared the wheel chocks and local newspaper men got under the carriage and at the tail end and quickly pushed the plane outside the danger zone. For five or ten minutes there was little hope of saving the plane until she was to the windward of the fire.

The Canadian airmen hope to hop off from here for London, England, early tomorrow morning. The plane now here from Washburn, Me., where it was forced down by bad weather. To Hop from Maine for London. Old Orchard, Me., Sept. 5.—(AP)—A complete reversal of former plans was announced just before midnight by the pilots of the Royal Windsor, trans-Atlantic monoplane, in a decision to take off from here tomorrow directly for England without touching at Newfoundland.

Sponsors and participants of the Old Glory's flight were pleased rather than disappointed that a series of incidents had held the plane here for another night. On the basis of computations by James H. Carr of the New York weather bureau, who gave up his vacation in New Hampshire to assist the flyers, it was believed that the Old Glory tomorrow would find fair weather off Newfoundland where today fog banks were reported.

McIntosh Waits on Weather. DUBLIN, Sept. 5.—(U.P.)—Capt. R. H. McIntosh hoped tonight that the weather would be good enough to permit him to start his Dublin-Philadelphia flight in the Princess Xenia from Baldonnel flying field tomorrow.

Fog Holds Up Courtney. CORUNNA, Spain, Sept. 5.—(U.P.)—Thick fog today prevented Frank T. Courtney from resuming his Plymouth, England-New York seaplane flight. He has telegraphed to London for the latest weather bulletin, and if this indicates likelihood of favorable Atlantic conditions, Courtney purposes to leave tomorrow.

Princess May Have Reached America. OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 5.—(AP)—The missing trans-Atlantic plane St. Raphael may have reached this continent and in confusion put out over the ocean again. It was indicated in detailed reports today of the sighting of an unidentified plane over Belle Isle Friday night.

When first seen the plane was traveling in a northwesterly direction, and proceeded out of sight over the coast line of Labrador, the lighthouse keeper of Belle Isle reported to C. P. Edwards, superintendent of radio for the department of marine and fisheries. Two and a half hours later, it reappeared, he said, pursuing an erratic course to the southeast. This course would have taken it out over the Atlantic, although veering to the west would have brought the plane over the eastern coast of Newfoundland.

It was pointed out that no Canadian plane was known to be in the vicinity of Belle Isle, and at the time the plane was reported seen there.

FRENCH FLYER ADMITS FAKING ALTITUDE MARK

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, Sept. 5.—"Disqualified for life," was the verdict returned against Jean Calliso, the French "record man," who was caught faking a new world altitude record of 42,651 feet Aug. 22 by the judiciary committee of the Aero Club of France tonight.

Confronted with absolute proofs that his barograph was tampered with to register 13,000 meters while another instrument cleverly hidden in the tail of his machine showed only 4,000 meters, M. Calliso broke down and tearfully confessed that he had faked his previous "records" in 1924 and 1926. As long as he lives Calliso will never be allowed to pilot another plane. He will be stripped of his honors and the Legion of Honor is taking steps to withdraw his decoration.

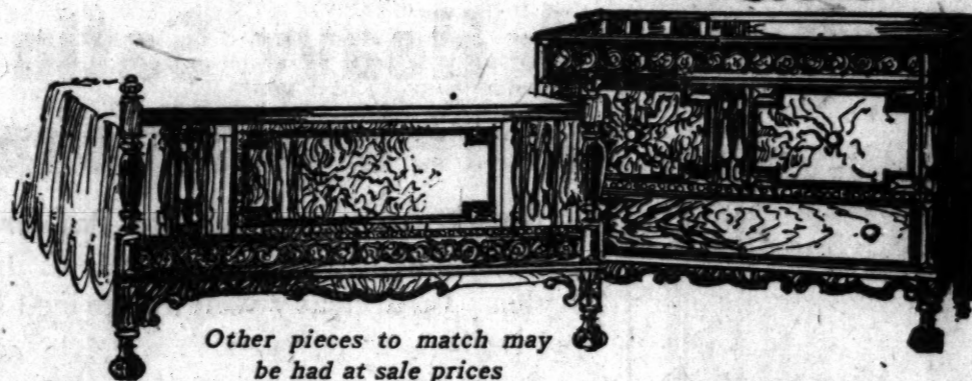

[By the action of the French Aero club Lieut. John A. Macready's record of 38,704 feet, made on Jan. 29, 1926, will now probably stand as a world's record for altitude flying.]

REDFERN SEEN 165 MILES OFF SOUTH AMERICA

Dropped Five Notes; May Be on Island.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 5.—(AP)—The Norwegian steamship Christian Krogh, docking here late today, reported that it had sighted Paul R. Redfern and his airplane, Port of Brunswick, Aug. 25, when he was within 165 miles of the South American coast. Redfern circled about the ship for some time, it was reported, and dropped five notes, three of which sought directions.

He last was seen, officers said, heading in the direction of the Venezuelan mainland, 155 miles away. Between him and the mainland was a group of islands, but 100 miles from the point where he was sighted by the ship. [Redfern sailed from Brunswick, Ga., Aug. 25.]

Think He Landed. Officers expressed the opinion that Redfern had either reached the mainland or had landed on one of the islands between the ship and the continent.

The ship was proceeding from Port Au Spain, Trinidad, to Kingston, Jamaica, when the plane was sighted. At the time it was sighted, the ship was in latitude 13-7 north and longitude 60-37 west. The plane descended to within half the distance of the deck and circled back over the ship, dropping a note enclosed in a round pasteboard box. The note read: "Please point ship toward nearest land."

Drops Three Notes. Apparently he was not satisfied that the ship's officers had understood the note, they said, and he dropped a second note before his request could be complied with. A boat had been lowered and the first note recovered before the second landed in the water. The second landed near the boat, and W. T. Notwest, fireman on the Christian Krogh, leaped overboard and procured it. The second note read: "Point ship toward nearest land and wave one time for each 100 miles distance."

A third note picked up by the boat was similar to the others and was signed, "Redfern, thanks." The ship turned her bow toward the west, where, 100 miles away, lay the group of islands of which the Cayo Grande and El Roques are the largest. These islands are 45 miles west of Venezuela.

In addition to waving a flag to indicate the distance to nearest land, the ship sounded two blasts on its whistle. The aviator circled about the ship several other times before turning his nose toward the west, officers said. The weather was splendid for flying, they reported.

FIND NO TRACE OF AIRMAN. RIO JENAIRO, Sept. 4.—(AP)—The Correo da Manha publishes advice from Para saying all searches along the north shore of the Amazon and to the north shore of the Amazon and to the north shore of the Amazon, for the missing American aviator, Paul Redfern, have proved futile. Expeditions organized by the authorities among the inhabitants of the interior also have failed. The search continues, although the authorities express the opinion that the hope of finding Redfern is slight. Some believe that he may have injured himself in a fall, making it impossible to reach any inhabited region.

WORLD GIRDLING FLYERS REACH CALCUTTA, INDIA

Fly 485 Miles from Allahabad.

BULLETIN

CALCUTTA, British India, Sept. 6 (Tuesday).—The American round the world plane, the Foote, arrived here from Allahabad at 11:40 o'clock this morning. They had taken off at Allahabad, 485 miles away, at 7 o'clock this morning (Indian time).

(Copyright 1927 by The New York Times.)
ALLAHABAD, Sept. 6.—After a flight of 8 hours and 50 minutes the American plane, the Foote, arrived here from Allahabad at 11:40 o'clock this morning. They had taken off at Allahabad, 485 miles away, at 7 o'clock this morning (Indian time).

The heavy monsoon rain fell this morning, but only modified to a drizzle just before the sound of the monoplane, flying low in the dome of a leaden sky, appeared. Twice it encircled the aerodrome, then effected a perfect landing, throwing up water with a gentle swish, and then taxied the center and turning sharp right came quietly to a halt.

Only press representatives were present and all contractors, but the young officers of the brigade staff soon arrived and arranged for standing guard over the yellow beauty, on which is scribbled the autographs of admirers en route.

The airman expressed satisfaction at the journey despite the difficulty of flying in the rain.

Brook Ready for Bed.
William S. Brock expressed himself as ready to rest, but Edward F. Schlee professed to be willing to do another 1,000 miles. The airman motored into Allahabad, where they are spending the night. Brock was very tired, being unable to get much sleep during the journey, but he had a slightly better appetite. Schlee was slightly deaf, but cheerful.

Schlee stated that until they reached Calcutta they would be unable to tell whether the proposed route—Bangkok, Turin, Hongkong, Tokyo, Midway Island, and Honolulu—would be possible owing to the likelihood of Japan's refusal to let them cross to the Midway Islands. If not, the alternative is from Hongkong to Guam, whence, owing to trade winds, the journey to Honolulu and thence to Frisco would be followed.

The worst part of the journey was over the Atlantic. Schlee said. Across India it was cool. Schlee, admiring the greenness of Allahabad and the luxuriant foliage and grass all round, was unable to believe that a few weeks earlier it was a dusty brown. The machine has given the flyers very little trouble and arrangements have been excellent everywhere. The aviators intend to start for Calcutta at 7 o'clock tomorrow.

ROCKEFELLER GIVES FLAGPOLE TO CHURCH; AIDS IN DEDICATION

Pocantico Hills, N. Y., Sept. 5.—(Special.)—John D. Rockefeller, Gen. Robert Lee Bullard, president of the National Security League; Magr. Cornelius Crowley of the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, New Rochelle, and Justice Humphrey J. Lynch of the Supreme court, were among those who took part this afternoon in the dedication of a flag and flag pole on the lawn of the little Catholic rectory at the Church of the Magdalene.

Mr. Rockefeller greeted his friends and neighbors on the porch of the church during the three hours of the ceremony and later made a short speech which was applauded by the 500 persons present. The thirty foot steel flag pole was presented to the parish by Mr. Rockefeller.

ing of the American world circling plane Foote of Detroit, although official permission to land has not yet been granted. The war office says the flyers may traverse Formosa, avoiding the fortified zones at the south and north ends of the island, and fly over Japan along the prescribed route. Whatever difficulty exists appear to be in regard to flying over the Bonin Islands.

FEDERAL PROBE OF FATAL PLANE WRECK SOUGHT

Inspector Here Asks for U. S. Authority.

Federal investigation of the airplane crash near Rushville, Ill., which on Sunday brought death to A. Edward Westlake, Chicago real estate man, and injury to the pilot, Emory W. Westlake, business associate of Frear, appeared possible yesterday when Robert Gast, chief of the local federal airplane inspection service, announced he had wired to his superiors in Washington for authority to make an inquiry.

Mr. Gast said his information concerning the crash was limited, but that from his knowledge of Westlake's plane, a Curtiss JN 4, he considered it likely that the pilot, in attempting a landing, sought to bring the plane down too slowly and put it in a nose dive.

Pilot for Over a Year.
Westlake's experience as a flyer was of more than a year's duration, during which he has done most of his flying from Ashburns field and the hangars of the Aero Club of Illinois. Other pilots there said yesterday he held a license of commerce transport license, having passed federal tests last March, and that his plane had likewise been inspected and approved at that time. Some reports had it that the pilot, who is 28 years old and lives at 5483 Cornell avenue, had trained and was eligible for commission at the army field at Rantoul, but Maj. L. G. Heffernan, in command there, yesterday said Westlake was not known to him.

It also was stated at the Aero club headquarters that Westlake's plane was of the type used by the army in teaching aviators. Maj. Heffernan said all the army's Curtiss JN-4 type planes had been scrapped as unfit for use, and the parts sold.

Col. Paul Henderson, president of the National Air Transport, who as a special deputy coroner recently conducted an inquiry into an unusually large number of airplane fatalities, said that the JN 4 planes are seldom used now.

Col. Henderson let it be known, incidentally, that the inspectors had discovered one field at which more than two-thirds of the planes had been condemned as unsafe.

Officials of the Aero club field said that Westlake's plane had been in excellent condition when it left there Sunday morning.

Slowed for Landing.
Westlake's wife, who had hastened to the Culbertson hospital in Rushville, where the pilot was taken following the crash, gave his statement.

"Mr. Westlake says he was cruising about, getting the lay of the land preparatory to making a landing, when the engine, which he had throttled down, stalled," Mrs. Westlake said. "The ship went immediately into a nose dive, and at the low altitude Mr. Westlake was unable to bring it out before it crashed. He thinks the motor may have overheated from the long flight from Chicago."

Health is Too Big a Price to Pay for Heat

Before Buying a Heating System
Ask Yourself These Questions:

Why are schools heated with Circulating Warm Air?
Because state laws protect school children, and schools are heated by the healthiest system—circulating warm air, which furnishes even, uniform heat, carrying moisture, keeping floors warm.

Why are Dust Streaks Over Radiators?
There is dirt and dust in every city. As it seeps into the house, it is caught up by the heat rising from radiators and deposited on walls and ceilings. That's why there is a good business in radiator shields.

Are the Floors Cold in Your Home?
Circulating warm air heating systems take the cold air from the floors—that's the advantage of Circulating Heat. Steam and hot water heating systems have no means of moving the cold air.

Do you Care Anything About Saving Coal?
Moist air at 65 degrees is more comfortable than dry air at 75 degrees. Less coal is required to maintain 65 degrees of comfort than the greater heat.

65,000 FROLIC, HEAR SPEECHES AT G. O. P. PICNIC

Crowe, Brundage Stress
Party Aid to Labor.

The sixteenth annual picnic of the north side Republicans, held in River view park yesterday, drew a larger crowd than ever before. Oscar A. Crowe, treasurer, reported at a check of the gates at 5 o'clock that more than 64,000 picnic tickets had been collected, and the dancers, on the evening program, were yet to arrive.

Politicians were compelled to make snappy talks to get a hand. Thomas O. Wallace, clerk of the Circuit court, as master of ceremonies, limited every speaker to a maximum of five minutes; but because of the enormous crowd every faction among the Republicans was on hand to get a place on the speakers' list, and nearly every one complimented Tom Wallace.

Aid to Labor Stressed.
Edward J. Brundage told the throng that the Republicans have done more for labor than all of the other parties combined. State's Attorney Crowe emphasized the protective tariff and the restricted immigration laws as an aid to labor and wages.

Mayor Thompson said he would continue to "fight to keep Old Glory nailed to the masthead."

He varied his "America first" speech enough to say that on his trip through the west, which he starts tonight, he will have for one of his purposes the spreading of this slogan so that it will find a place in the platform of the next national Republican convention. He said that he hopes to get support in the states he will visit.

Oscar De Priest, colored leader of the second ward, was another who told of the glories of the Republican party. Edward Litwinger of the board of relief recited other benefits to labor from the Republicans. State Senator James J. Barbour lasted a little with the audience and stirred much applause.

Wallace Speaks for Minute.

Tom Wallace practiced what he preached and talked less than one minute. Among other things, he said: "This is an eleven hour picnic. I have invited you to have a good time and it will not be missed up by wind-jamming on my part." Aid Albert E. Loescher took about the same amount of time.

Just before the speaking started Louis Nettleshorst, announcer, said that the black bottom contest would follow the speeches immediately.

"Will those who wish to contest in this event come to the stage?" yelled Nettleshorst, knowing full well that few political orators can compete with such an event at River view park.

Pick Prettiest Widow.

One speaker was a trifle slow in getting up and out to the front of the platform and Nettleshorst announced that the prettiest widow would be selected. Nearly two dozen of them paraded upon the platform. Some were jolly and fleshy, some neat, some pretty, one was cute, and another might have been mistaken for an up-to-date flapper. The applause of the audience was the gauge by which the contest was decided. The audience picked a woman who appeared to have been a hard worker and more than sixty years of age. Four times the applause was measured, but the audience each time insisted that the old-fashioned widow who bore the marks of toil should have the prize. It was awarded.

Also the audience bestowed its favor in the black bottom contest not upon the one with the most suggestive wiggle but upon the one who was judged to have the most grace in the acrobatic feat.

PLAN NORWEGIAN FETE AT OPENING OF OUTER DRIVE

Norwegian citizens of Chicago are planning an old country demonstration at Soldiers' field next Sunday in connection with the ceremony of officially naming the outer drive under construction from 23d street to Jackson park for their Viking ancestor, Leif Ericson. The demonstration, consisting of folk songs and dances, will be known as the Leif Ericson festival.

Preceding the events in Soldiers' field a convoy of United States revenue boats and yachts will escort a replica of the boat in which Ericson is supposed to have crossed the Atlantic in 1497 along the Grant park water front.

Boric Acid Good But Not Enough

We recommend Iris, America's Eye Bath, because we know it is such a vast improvement over the time honored eyewash of plain boric acid.

Iris contains camphor, menthol, witch-hazel, boric acid, and pure distilled spring water, all sterilized and put into sealed sterile flasks.

Iris does three definite things for you. It makes your eyes sparkle and look alive and vivacious. It cleanses the corners, the tear ducts and under the upper and lower eyelids. It relieves soreness and inflammation.

If you will try one bottle of Iris we know you will realize its virtues. All of our stores are instructed to refund your money if you are not thoroughly pleased. Both the 45c and 85c size come complete with handy cream. Try Iris today.

BOXING, GRECIAN DANCING THRILL CHICAGO LABOR

Parachute Jumper Hero of Holiday Crowd.

Chicago trade unionists—35,000 to 40,000 of them—attended the Labor day celebration yesterday at Soldiers' field. Boxing, Grecian dances, airplane acrobatics, and a soccer football game between the Bicklayers and an all star team were the features. A parachute jumper gave the crowds in Soldiers' field and along the lake shore opposite the Field museum a thrill when he leaped from a stunt plane about 1,500 feet in the air. He landed safely. He was driven back to Soldiers' field and was given an ovation by the laborites.

Fitzpatrick, Others Speak.

Brief speeches were made by John Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, and other labor leaders.

Fitzpatrick told the audience that A. C. Cameron of the Chicago Typographical union [No. 16] obtained the passage of a resolution in the newly formed American Federation of Labor in 1884, asking that the first Monday of September be set aside as a national labor day.

It was no more than fitting, Fitzpatrick declared, for the men, women, and children of labor to meet on labor's national holiday in Soldiers' field, dedicated to Chicago boys who gave their lives for the cause of human freedom. Fitzpatrick drew a parallel between the duties of the nation's defenders and those of organized labor—both he asserted make sacrifices to procure and maintain human freedom.

"The labor movement," Fitzpatrick said, "is the only militant effort being made to bring a larger measure of life into the homes of the toiling classes."

Labor Turns to Science.
"Demands of labor are higher wages and shorter hours and when we come to analyze what these demands are, we come to the conclusion that they actually mean the questions of the human family."

"Labor always is found in the front rank when the battles of wage earners are to be fought. In the future labor must use modern and scientific methods for communication and education. Radio has made this possible. Science and electricity, through development of the radio, have replaced old methods of communication."

FOUND DEAD IN BATH TUB.
Charles Miksis, 35, of 3530 South Honore street, was found dead in the bath tub by his wife, Anna, early yesterday morning. Death was supposed to have been due to heart disease.

GREEN ASSAULTS REDS IN PAYING FRANKLIN HONOR

New York, Sept. 5.—(Special.)—At memorial exercises in tribute to Benjamin Franklin at the Franklin statue in Printing House square this afternoon William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, placed a wreath on the statue and delivered a brief address in which he pledged the allegiance of organized labor to the principles of democracy and Americanism that Franklin proclaimed and its unending opposition to communism and other subversive doctrines.

"Now, in America, the foundations of our government are being assailed," President Green said. "Men and women have arisen in all parts of our land who challenge and denounce our government and believe some other political doctrine should be accepted in its place."

"We of organized labor believe wholeheartedly in the principles of the American government and have no sympathy with any other doctrine. We remain loyal to the principles of democracy and Americanism that Benjamin Franklin proclaimed."

President Green paid a tribute to Franklin, terming him "labor's patron saint."

Breakfasts That "Stand By" You

Quaker Oats Supplies
Vigor to Speed up
Your Mornings

NOURISHING breakfasts of well-balanced food are now being widely urged by authorities as an important aid to business success of adults, and physical and mental development of school children.

Some 70% of the day's important work in the business world, it is now known, falls into the four morning hours. 80% of the important school work, in thousands of schools and colleges recently investigated, including Princeton, Harvard, most state universities and public schools, falls in the same period.

To be right mornings, you must eat right food; meaning rightly balanced, complete food.

Thus Quaker Oats—excellently balanced in protein, carbohydrates, minerals, vitamins "B" and the bulk that makes laxatives seldom needed—is the world's dietetic urge. Savory, delicious food that "stands by" you through the morning. No other cereal compares. Always remember that. Get Quick Quaker—which cooks in 2½ to 5 minutes—or regular Quaker Oats today at your grocer.

DRY AGENT WILL PLEAD GUILTY TO MANSLAUGHTER

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 5.—(Special.)—Frank Farley, one of the two "drunk on duty" dry agents who was indicted by the county grand jury for murder by criminally reckless driving, tomorrow will plead guilty to a charge of manslaughter and take his chances with a one to ten year term. Motion to dismiss charges against George Hudson, Farley's mate, will be pressed in federal court, according to Assistant

United States Attorney George O'Hannesian.

Farley drove the death car which struck down the late Percy Ingram, last April 5. Hudson, O'Hannesian said, will be released by agreement with county prosecutors, who forced the Hudson-Farley case to an issue in federal court.

O'Hannesian will appear to present Farley's plea. Farley sustained a broken leg in the auto crash and has been in jail. Hudson secured release on $5,000 bonds and is said to have been working as dry enforcement investigator for a civic cleanup society in Fresno, Cal., until the outcome of the trial determines if he gets his government job back.

MONTGOMERY WARD & CO.—one of the largest, oldest and best known business houses in America—opens an exclusive Ready-Cut HOMES EXHIBIT in its store at Chicago Avenue and Larrabee Street tomorrow. The opening of our Chicago office marks the beginning of a new service that Montgomery Ward & Co. offers you. Everyone who is planning to build a home should visit it. We are prepared to finance those in and about Chicago who wish to acquire their homes on our Easy Payment Plan without delay. Our building authorities, who are familiar with local conditions, will be on hand to show you how your home can be built at actual savings of $500 to $2000.

WARDWAY Homes are permanent homes—not portable. Substantially constructed—built of the best materials. Every home is a proven success. Our 8,000,000 customers know that we will not sacrifice quality to make a low price, and that we stand behind our strong guarantee of satisfaction.

New FREE Personal Consulting Service

Building is a great and fascinating adventure. But it is mysterious to most people—there are so many things to decide. People who have groped and wrestled with figures and building problems are amazed when they learn what Ward's FREE service relieves them of and how easy it makes their entire building problem.

Wholesale Prices— Direct from Mill to You

Coming direct from the mill, ready-cut, the WARDWAY eliminates all unnecessary charges. Saves you all the in-between profits paid by most purchasers of homes.

Why Our Terms Are So Easy

Our terms are easy because the low selling prices of our WARDWAY Homes have reduced every payment to the smallest amount possible on a home designed for permanence. Our Loan Plan, which enables you to use our money at a very low interest rate, saves the average purchaser hundreds of dollars. No unreasonable fees are charged!

Material Ready-Cut Saves Hundreds of Dollars in Labor

It is the MODERN method of building we offer you. Each piece is cut to exact size at the mill. No waste! This means a saving of at least 15 per cent of the material. Modern machinery at the mill has done the hard work for you far quicker and more accurately than is possible to do by hand the old way. Saves 30 to 40 per cent of time required to do carpentry on the job. No uncertainty—no guesswork—no worries—no risk. So simple that a great number of WARDWAY Homes are put up entirely or in part by the purchasers themselves. Any man who is handy with tools can do it. One order brings you everything. The lumber comes to you in bundles carefully marked. Complete blueprints and easy-to-understand instructions show how and where each piece is to be used.

Exhibit Opens Tomorrow

You will find that a visit to our new HOMES EXHIBIT will be time well spent. The amazing ease with which a WARDWAY Home can be acquired will compel the attention and serious consideration of everyone who really wants a home of their own now. Doors, windows and interior finish, at very attractive prices, also on display.

Dare Devil Barely Averts Death in Lower Niagara

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Sept. 5.—(AP)—Vincent Patrick Taylor, 38 year old "Australian dare devil," barely missed death in the swift waters of the lower Niagara today when he made an exhibition parachute jump from the falls view bridge.

Taylor sank as he struck the water and the silken folds of the parachute enveloped him. He cut it away and swam out. A motor boat that was to have picked him up developed engine trouble. The dock superintendent rescued him with a row boat.

REVISION OF BAIL LAWS HERE URGED TO CHECK CRIME

Prof. Beeley Lays Weak Bonding to Courts.

Revision of the bail bond laws is urgently needed in Cook county, according to the conclusions of Prof. Arthur Lawton Beeley, who has conducted a survey of the bond situation in Chicago during the last two years. The results of the survey have been published by the University of Chicago and were made public yesterday.

"Administration of the bail system in Chicago has completely broken down at many critical points," reports the former University of Chicago professor, who is now a member of the University of Utah faculty.

Lays Blame on Courts. "As criminal justice is at present administered in Chicago, large numbers of accused but obviously dependable persons are needlessly committed to jail; while many others, just as obviously undependable, are released and never return for trial."

The fault is with the failure of the courts to exercise proper discretion in bail matters and to the general maladministration of criminal justice in the community, the professor says in his study disclosed.

"The ineffective working of the bail system is an indirect result of the low level of efficiency which in general characterizes the administration of criminal justice in Chicago," says the report.

Forfeiture Set Aside. "Bail bonds are forfeited with unnecessary frequency and with astonishing impunity. Even where a forfeiture has been declared it is commonly set aside, usually without payment of costs, a practice which is contrary to law. Moreover, the amount finally collected is rarely the full amount of the judgment."

The professor recommends an amendment to the constitution, permitting the courts to suspend entirely the privilege of bail in cases dealing with habitual criminals charged with felonies.

SAYS MEXICO NOT LIABLE IN KILLING OF U. S. TEACHER

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 5.—(AP)—The Mexican government is understood by the newspaper El Universal to consider itself not liable for payment of damages to the relatives of Florence M. Anderson, California school teacher, who was fatally wounded by bandits recently on a Guadalajara-Nogales train. The paper says the government contends the attackers were bandits, not revolutionists.

CORONER FINDS DIEHL SLEW WIFE, CHILD, HIMSELF

Mount Carroll, Ill., Sept. 5.—(AP)—Dependancy over financial difficulties caused Henry Diehl, 53, a farmer living on the edge of Lanark, to shoot and kill his wife and 14 year old child and then take his own life, a coroner's jury decided today.

The three bodies were found in the bedroom of the farm home Sunday afternoon by Joseph Laird, a hired man, and a neighbor, Riley Lotzbaugh. All had been shot through the head. Laird, who said he had last seen the family Thursday night when they returned from a social gathering, had been away from the farm for two days. When he did not see any of them about he called Lotzbaugh and they searched the home.

The inquest was short, and the county authorities said there was no doubt but what it was a case of murder and suicide by Diehl, probably last Friday.

The bodies were buried in the Lanark cemetery this afternoon. STABBED TO DEATH DURING QUARREL. Charles Smiley, colored, was stabbed to death yesterday morning by William Thomas, also colored, who fought. The murder was the result of a quarrel between the men while on Smiley's farm at 1414 and Leavitt streets.

PRESIDENT TO HALT TRIP HOME FOR DEDICATION

Stops at South Dakota School Saturday.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Rapid City, S. D., Sept. 6.—(Special.)—President Coolidge's last act before leaving the west will be to dedicate the Lincoln Memorial library at Brookings, S. D., next Saturday. He will find there a new memorial to his summer, the Coolidge Sylvan theater, where generations of students of agriculture will gather for lectures and entertainment.

The President finds a deep significance in this dedication and while he is not to attempt to discuss current agriculture relief measures, he will point out in a broad way the attitude of the government toward this vital industry.

Military Training Provided For.

The dedication marks the completion of a monument to the work of Abraham Lincoln for agriculture. This is the first building at a land grant college to be named after Lincoln, who established them. When he signed the Morrill land grant bill on July 2, 1862, he made it possible to establish colleges of agriculture and mechanic arts in each of the states.

By the terms of this bill each state was given 30,000 acres of public land for each senator and representative in congress, to be used to endow such colleges. It is interesting to note that while classical and scientific studies were left out, military tactics was included.

South Dakota had 130,000 acres for such a college when it was admitted in 1889. Previous to this the territorial legislature had established the agricultural school at Brookings. Acts providing for experiment work have added to the original scope of the college work, but it remained for President Coolidge to sign the Purnell act which is expected to do more to broaden the services of land grant colleges than any other act passed by congress since Lincoln's time. The act broadens the experimental work to include the study of problems in farm economics, the marketing of farm products and investigation of problems in the rural home and of rural social life.

Confer on Problems.

The Purnell bill gives $20,000 this year to agricultural experiment in each state. President Charles W. Fugatey recently returned from a conference at St. Louis called to consider problems created by the act. A national program of research was formulated and each state college will be assigned definite phases of the national problem of agriculture.

The Coolidges will leave Rapid City Friday on the journey back to the White House.

Pan-German League Asks

Dissolution of Red Party

HALBERSTADT, Germany, Sept. 5.

(AP)—The Pan-German league has adopted resolutions demanding the dissolution of the communist party and the suppression of its organs. The league represents the nationalist extremists and bases its demands on the recent world-wide demonstrations in favor of Sacco and Vanzetti.

$250,000 SPENT ON WHITE HOUSE MAKES IT SHINE

Washington, D. C., Sept. 5.—(AP)—

President and Mrs. Coolidge will find virtually a new home when they return to Washington next week from their vacation in the Black hills.

Although nearly 140 years old, six months of reconstruction, redecorating, cleaning, and painting have transformed the White House from a structure declared unsafe into a modern "executive mansion."

Besides a new slate roof, an entirely new third floor of eighteen rooms has supplanted an old garret space formerly used for servants' quarters. A new ceiling has been built on the second floor, and elevator service has been extended to the third floor.

New damask linings have been spread over the walls of the Green and Red rooms on the first floor, while the second has been redecorated. The President's office has been painted, and the passageway from the third floor to the roof of the south portion tiled for use as a roof garden. The whole structure has been painted.

Scaffolding around the front portion will be removed tomorrow and every detail will have been attended to by the time the President and Mrs. Coolidge are ready to move in.

While $250,000 was appropriated by congress for White House repairs, only about $250,000 thus far has been expended.

'OLD GANG' OF 222 LEAVES FOR VETS' REUNION IN PARIS

Rest of State Delegates to Go Wednesday.

With the departure last night of 222 Chicagoans for the Paris convention of the American Legion and with the department band, drum and bugle corps and quartet, and other contingents scheduled to leave today and tomorrow, more than 1,000 Illinois representatives to the tenth annual Legion convention will be on their way by midnight Wednesday.

The party that left last night is known as the "Old Gang" and filled to the last berth, the seven special Pullman cars on the Wabash railroad. Many of these men and women saw service together as nurses, men, officers, and surgeons on the battlefields and they have all remained together during the last nine reunions of the Legion.

Visit to Niagara Falls.

Harry Rogers, reservation officer of the "Old Gang" acted as super porter, arranging reservation directions.

Stopping off at Buffalo, N. Y., for a four hour visit to Niagara Falls, the "Old Gang" is due in New York at 3 o'clock tomorrow morning. Three hours later they will embark the S. S. Republic for Cherbourg and Paris.

The band and drum and bugle corps are scheduled to arrive in Chicago from Kankakee and Bloomington this afternoon at 5:30 over the Illinois Central railroad. From the depot these organizations for whose transportation to Paris the legislature appropriated $40,000 will parade to the La Salle hotel. There they will be the dinner guests, with the Chicago Legion quartet, of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

Others to Sail Thursday.

With other contingents the musical groups will leave on special trains over the Baltimore and Ohio at 10 o'clock for Washington. From there they will go to New York where they will sail Thursday afternoon for France on the S. S. Caronia, the 20,000 ton liner.

The drum and bugle corps consisting of 75 pieces, which was organized at Kankakee will be the largest musical organization to attend the convention.

Two Chicago Youths Drown While Bathing in Mich.

Robert McArthur of Libertyville, 14 year old son of Alfred McArthur, insurance agent at 29 South La Salle street, was drowned Saturday in Lake Michigan at Fier Fort, Mich., where he had been attending a summer camp. Diving from a raft Saturday afternoon at Fish Lake, in Cass county, Michigan, Edward Leyden, 18, son of Thomas F. Leyden, 8819 Elizabeth street, drowned. The body was recovered later and brought to Chicago.

LEGION BOYS AND DOUGHNUT GIRLS ARRIVE IN PARIS

(Copyright, 1927, by the New York Times.) PARIS, Sept. 5.—Two hundred and sixty American Legionnaires arrived at Havre on the steamship Lancastrina today at dawn and proceeded immediately to Paris on a special train. They were met in Paris by Legion officials. The same number disembarked at Southampton.

The liner also brought twenty Salvation Army huts, who will take charge of the huts in Paris. They are headed by Helene Guratsiano, who served the first overseas doughnuts to the American soldiers during the war.

The Legionnaires center, Cours la Reine, was officially opened today and three hundred ex-doughnut boys registered. The Legion officials are receiving hundreds of requests daily from Frenchmen and Americans to help them locate former pals.

Thirty Americans today left for Italy. All these were soldiers attached to Italian units in the last month of the war.

Anti-Japanese School Moves Is Started by Manchus

(Chicago Tribune From Service.) TOKIO, Sept. 5.—Representatives of Manchurian students have gathered in Mukden to arrange a province wide anti-Japanese movement. They are holding meets in the Chinese chamber of commerce hall. The South Manchurian railway, which conducts scores of schools for Chinese along the railway, has ordered all the high schools closed temporarily, and has ordered all the pupils home. All the largest schools and colleges in Manchuria are being conducted by Japanese.

VELVETS

Take the Stellar Role in Mode

NOT only in the evening mode—upon which velvet has cast a gracious dignity through years of fashion—but through every hour of the day—velvet now holds sway. For youth has come to velvet—expressed in its chiffon sheerness, its gossamer lightness, the nonchalant winsome grace it gives to line.

The Fine Collection of Velvets Here Express the Entire Phase of This Fabric Mode

Transparent velvets, soft and supple as crepe, in white, black and the season's colors. $10 yard.

Chiffon velvets for afternoon mode, and in whose darker colors one visions the simple tailored fashions. $6.50 to $15 yard.

Gorgeous metal brocades—velvets on sheer chiffons—from the finest foreign looms. $9.50 to $45 yard.

And the very new figured velvets after old-time as well as more modernistic themes. $7.50 to $15 yard.

Velveteens, without which the velvet cycle would be incomplete, for they rule the sports mode alone or in combination. $3.50 yard.

COUNTY HOSPITAL SURGERY AMAZES VISITING DOCTORS

Watch Operations in Tour of City Institutions.

Surgical week in the Cook County hospital was demonstrated yesterday by thirteen Chicago physicians to the twenty-six visiting surgeons from England, Scotland, and South Africa, who spent seven hours inspecting the hospital.

From 9 o'clock in the morning, when the guests, whose tour of medical centers in the United States is being sponsored by the Royal Society of Medicine, were conducted through all the departments of the institution until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when the last operation was performed, Chicago's medical equipment was completely represented and exhibited.

Call Hospital Marvellous. In general the impression gained by the visitors was that "it is marvelous" and in particular they were impressed by the fact that the hospital is supported by taxation. One of the most interesting operations to the surgeons was that performed by Dr. Karl Meyer. He performed a resection of a cancer of the stomach with an electric knife which cut out an inch. Another large surgery studied the results of plastic surgery by Dr. S. L. Kock. Dr. Philip H. Kreuscher, who has been chairman of the committee from the American College of Surgeons to entertain the visitors, performed an operation to transform a stationary hip to a movable one. This particular department of surgery is one that the English doctors are studying intensely on their trip.

Others Demonstrate Work.

The other surgeons who performed operations or conducted demonstrations of their work at the county hospital were Drs. R. W. McNulty, Harry Culver, Vernon David, Henry Schmitt, William R. Cubbins, Kellogg Speed, Frank Pfister, Channing W. Barrett, Daniel N. Ellendrecht, W. H. G. Logan, and Truman W. Brophy.

Policeman Plans to Enter Law Practice on Oct. 1

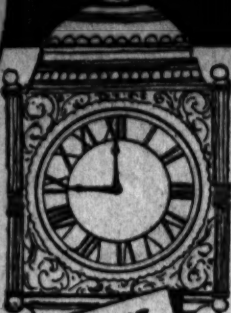

Policeman John Howe announced yesterday that on Oct. 1 he will hang up his uniform, turn in his star, and then hang out his shingle as a lawyer. Howe, who is 36 years old and lives with his mother at 3334 South Wood street, has been a policeman for eight years. He graduated from the Chicago Law school and passed the bar examination in October, 1925.

American Saves 54, Lost on Island, from Starving

MANILA, P. I., Sept. 5.—[U. P.]—Dispatches from an isolated section of the island of Camiguin, north of Luzon, tell of the rescue of fifty-four starving fishermen by Henry Becker, an American. Four sailing vessels foundered in a typhoon. The fishermen swam ashore and were lost. On the verge of death by starvation, they were found by Mr. Becker, who lives on the island.

"What is my present car worth in trade?"

GIVEN several makes of cars selling at about the same price, why should one offer me a larger allowance on my present car than another?"

This is a commonly asked question. Its answer lies in understanding these basic facts:

1. Your present car has only one fundamental basis of value: i.e., what the dealer who accepts it in trade can get for it in the used car market.
2. Your present car has seemingly different values because competitive dealers are bidding to sell you a new car.
3. The largest allowance offered is not necessarily the best deal for you. Sometimes it is not. It may mean that the new car involved has been excessively priced so as to permit an excessive allowance.
4. In trading-in your present car for a new car, first judge the merits of the new car in comparison with its price, including all delivery and finance charges. Then weigh any difference in allowance.

LABOR-EMPLOYER PARLEY URGED BY BRITISH UNIONS

Oppose Outside Hands in Settling Rows.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
(Copyright, 1927, by The Chicago Tribune.)
EDINBURGH, Sept. 5.—In a changed mood and facing a big drop in membership, the trades union congress opened its annual conference here today. There are only 656 delegates this year, compared with 696 last year. The delegates represent a membership of 4,163,994, which is a drop of 201,625 from last year's figure. Even Chairman George Hicks, who belongs to the semi-communist left wing, was inclined to be more calm. His presidential address was a series of hot and cold blasts calculated to rouse and allay the fears of the different sections. After denouncing the employers, for instance, as responsible for all the labor troubles last year, including the general strike, he made a plea for the establishment of a system of joint consultations between employers and employees of various industries, where the hard facts of each industry could be thrashed out without outside interference.

Hicks Rebukes Russians.

Mr. Hicks also was forced to administer a rebuke to the Russians, whose warm advocate he had been, for an arrogant letter from M. Tomsky, as head of the Russian trade unions, denouncing the various British labor leaders for their moderate policy. Mr. Hicks said: "I know a great deal of resentment is felt against what might be termed the crude arrogance of the Russians in telling us how to manage our affairs. I think it should be remembered that the Russians were reared in a hard and terrible school. Exile, imprisonment, and death have been the rewards meted out to those who were actively engaged in the workers' struggle against czarism."

LEWIS, HUNTED IN JUNK MURDER CASE, GIVES UP

Denies Killing; Admits Attending Meeting.

Harry J. (Lefty) Lewis, 25 years old, said to be a business agent for the "Sammy" union and who has been the object of a police search since Aug. 24, when Max Braverman, father of seven children, was murdered because he refused to join a union in the process of organization, surrendered yesterday to the police.

Marquette police and several detective bureau squads were unable to find Lewis until yesterday afternoon, when he met Sgt. Fred Joyce and Richard Seyferick by appointment at Cicero and Milwaukee avenues. Earlier in the afternoon he had telephoned Sgt. Joyce that he would be waiting for him at 5 o'clock.

Admits Witnessing Murder.
Lewis denied any implication in the Braverman killing. He frankly admitted being on the scene, but denied firing the shot or knowing who is responsible for the murder.

"I was there at the time of the shooting," he said, "but I was not armed."

Braverman was one of 60 or more junkmen summoned to a meeting on West Roosevelt road. They were told that a union was being formed and that it was to cost each $25 initiation fee and $5 a month assessment. Braverman and several others objected and a crew of fifteen or more labor slugs, according to the police evidence, then started to work.

Braverman Is Shot.
Several of the junk dealers emerged with only bruised heads, but Braverman, who was most insistent in his stand against organization of the union, was shot and fatally wounded.

Many of the witnesses blamed Lewis for the killing and an unsuccessful police search was made for him. The name was true of Pasty Fargone, leader of the "45" gang of the valley, who surrendered last Friday. He was later looked for accessory to murder. The police say that the same action will be taken against Lewis if he now seeks his liberty on a writ of habeas corpus.

GIRL ACCIDENTALLY SHOTS SELF.
Miss Helen Balchunas, 23 years old, was in a serious condition at the County hospital last night after she had accidentally shot herself in the abdomen while playing with a .38 caliber revolver in her home at 2920 South Kolin avenue.

'A New Appeal'

"It's almost magical the way Black and White Face Powder makes imperfections in my skin unnoticeable and brings out with new appeal the beauty of my texture and coloring," says lovely Miss Jenny Smith of Brooklyn, New York. "This exquisite powder is soft and fine as a baby's cheek and seems to give this delicacy to every skin it touches. I never saw more true-to-life, yet flattering, tints than I get in Black and White Face Powder—matching my complexion perfectly, yet improving on what Nature has done for me! This is surely my face powder—always!"

You, too, will choose the delightfully fragrant Black and White Face Powder as your own, once you see the new, appealing loveliness it gives. You can get the attractive 25c boxes—in flesh, pink, brunette and white tints—from 50,000 dealers everywhere.

Still A Pioneer in University Business Training

A pioneer in university business training in 1908. Blazing trails through new fields of study in the early days of business education. Hewing paths to cooperate with industries and with ambitious young business men.

Still a pioneer in 1927! Still searching for new ways to serve business. Still developing new educational methods... introducing new courses... perfecting a teaching technique for adult education... undertaking scientific business research... investigating less explored fields. Still carrying further the pioneering spirit to assure that business education keeps pace with modern industry.

In its new home, Wieboldt Hall, the million dollar laboratory for business training, the School of Commerce offers young business men greater opportunities than ever before through evening classes in business subjects.

University training for business is no longer an experiment. It has made for itself a secure place.

RED SOX WIN IN 18TH, 12-11; THEN BOW TO YANKS, 5-0

Largest Boston Crowd in Years Sees Games.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 5.—(AP)—The largest crowd to watch American League ball in this city in years saw the Red Sox take a sensational 12 to 11 contest from the Yankees in 18 innings today and then remained to see the New Yorks romp off with a 5 to 0 verdict in a five inning second game. Darkness ended the closing tussle. The sold attendance was 24,385, making the fourth largest home crowd in the history of the 44th home in the third inning of the first game to tie Babe Ruth. Score: Red Sox 12, Yankees 11.

SCHULTZ AGAIN CAPTURES PIKE'S PEAK AUTO RACE
Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 5.—(AP)—One Schults, Colorado Springs auto racer, today won the ninth annual Pike's Peak climb. His time was 15 minutes 25.5 seconds. This is 1.34 seconds slower than his time last year, when he also captured the event.

The race was marred by the serious injury of George Duff, who plunged off the highway with his car a mile from the starting line. Joe Unser won second place with a time of 20 minutes 24.5 seconds. Other racers finished as follows: Proctor, Nichols, Manfrot, Louis Unser, Angelo Cimino.

Macks Win Double Header; Indians and Browns Divide

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 5.—The Athletics strengthened their grip on second place today by taking the morning and afternoon games from Washington, 2 to 1, and 3 to 0. The Athletics made a triple play in the seventh inning of the second game when Bluege lined to Boley with men on first and second. Boley's throw to Bishop caught Judge off second and Bishop's throw to Dykes retired Ruel on a close play at first. Score: Athletics 3, Browns 0.

SENATORS BUY RALPH JUDD, PEORIA PITCHER
Washington, D. C., Sept. 5.—(AP)—Ralph Judd, pitcher of the Peoria, Ill., club in the Three-Eye league, has been purchased by the Washington Senators. President Clark Griffith of the Washington club, who announced the purchase, said the hurler will report here Sept. 12. The sale price was not made public.

REICHERS WINS LINCOLN PARK SCULLING TITLE
Fred Reichers won the single shell championship of the Lincoln Park Boat club yesterday over a mile course in the park lagoon. Billy Smith finished second and Harry Carlson third. The single six title went to W. Balser, an outfielder, then went behind the bat and caught a fine game.

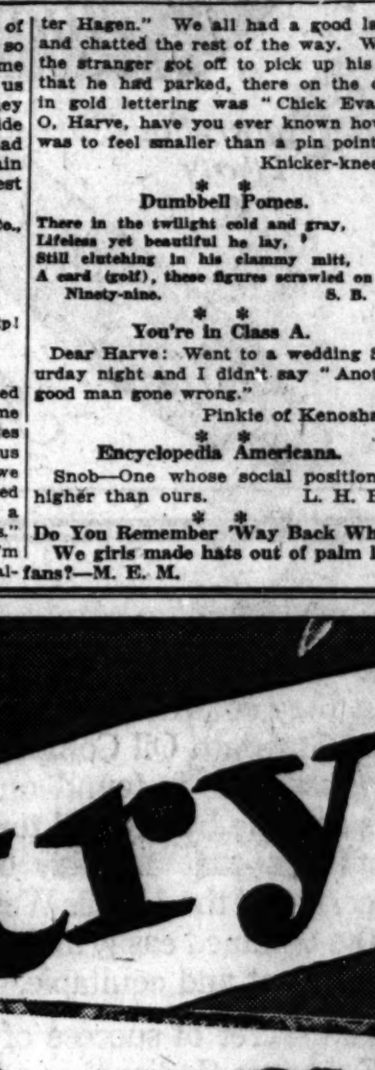

KAISER, ROLLEY, DURANT WIN AT PARK RIDGE NETS

Play in the third annual Labor day tournament of the Park Ridge Tennis club yesterday narrowed the original field of eighty down to five, with the veteran Art Kaiser, defending champion, leading the way into the semifinal round. Kaiser outlasted Henry Raeder Jr. in his fifth round match to win with little difficulty at 6-3, 6-3.

JOHNSON, WILLIAMS ERATIC
Tilden was largely responsible for the victory. He played an accurate and steady game. Hunter was nervous at the start but he improved as the first set wore on and played a noticeably better game in the last two sets. Tilden, however, bore the brunt of the attack.

SIREN SAILS TO VICTORY IN RACE ACROSS LAKE

Thirty-nine members of Chicago's yacht racing fleet yesterday wound up three days of competition sponsored by the Chicago Yacht club. The big yachts finished at the Jackson Park Yacht Club harbor after a tour including St. Joseph, Mich., and Michigan City, Ind., while the smaller Universal class racers, the R. Eagles, and pups, completed their third day of contest for points in their respective class championships at Belmont harbor.

In the triangular race, Karsa Brothers' Siren, Mackinac winner, took honors on the third leg from Michigan City to Chicago, beating her old rival, the O'Rourke Brothers' Intruder, across the line by three minutes with a time for the 35 miles of 6:18:40. Siren scored 15 points in the three days' racing against Intruder's 15 for the Universal class.

Commodore Hal Redmon of Jackson Park's Columbia, led the fleet home from Michigan City, and took honors in the Seawanhaka class, scoring 24 points during the three days' racing. Swanee took corrected time honors on the last leg, beating Fame by three minutes.

Meanwhile, Frank Merkle's Mitta turned up winner on the third day of racing at Belmont harbor in the R class. Mitta crossed the line six seconds ahead of William Faurot's Fantoma and a minute and twenty-seven seconds ahead of John Miller's Tomboy. David Orr took honors among the Eagles and sailed so well in the light breeze that she beat two members of the R class across the line after starting five minutes later than the bigger craft.

David Kales' Minnow was the leader of the pups with a time of 1:48:31. Summaries:

"Won't Be Long Now," Illinois Hunters Yodel

BY BOB BECKER.

September is the month when the fishing season fights a losing battle against hunting, as from now on there is a graduated series of opening dates on various game birds which induce the "double barreled" sportsmen to forsake rods and lures for shotguns.

"It won't be long now" is the cry of the gunners, because Oct. 1 is the opening day of the duck season.

The season on doves opened in Illinois last Thursday. Although dove shooting in this state hardly can be called popular, a number of shotgun fans were out the morning of Sept. 1 to take a crack at the flying "pigeons" which are by no means easy targets.

The season on doves continues through to Sept. 30. Seawanhaka, macroura, carolinensis, as the doves in this territory is known to the ornithologists, is found at this time of the year in flocks of varying size. The birds feed in the fields during the day, invariably repair to some favorite place to drink along towards evening and then retire to their roosts.

The hunter must know something of the habits of these birds in order to locate them and have some sport with them during the day. When we were in Arkansas in February on a quail hunt we found large flocks of doves at the edges of cotton fields.

AMERICAN GIANTS DEFEAT FLORALS, 1-0, IN 11 INNINGS

With one out in the home eleventh, Jim Brown walked, Malarcher sacrificed, and Davis singled to left, scoring Brown with the winning run that broke up a hurlers' duel between Powell and Lefty Sullivan of the Duffy Florals and gave the American Giants a 1-0 victory at their own park. Each pitcher got twelve strikeouts.

Horace E. Dodge Captures 150 Mile Motor Boat Race

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 5.—(AP)—Miss Syndicate, piloted by Horace E. Dodge of Detroit, won the fifth annual Yachtmen's Association of America 150 mile sweepstakes at the Gold Cup regatta today. The Dodge craft covered the distance in 4 hours 8 minutes 23.55 seconds. Second place went to Solar Plexus, driven by W. C. Erickson of Detroit, and third place to Baby Car VIII, with Lot Sanborn, Detroit, at the wheel.

Secret of Service

In the minds of many there is an element of wonder, of constant surprise, when they consider an organization such as the Standard Oil Company (Indiana)—so vast that it is found on all the highways and the byways of ten great states, so efficient that any day of any year in any corner of the Middle West its products may be obtained easily and at prices which are fair, just and equitable.

The secret of success of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a "secret of service"—and it is an open secret. Examination quickly strips it of any mystery.

This Company is not a person or small group of persons. It is literally an army of people. There are more than 29,000 employees. There are over 50,000 stockholders.

This Company does not belong to one generation. Its life is not limited to three score years and ten. It is older and stronger than the men who are a part of it and will endure long after they are dead.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) stands for the accumulated wisdom and experience of more than one generation of men.

The directors, to whom its stewardship is given today, are building with thought for the morrow—building on the work of those who have gone before. Each succeeding generation builds upon the achievements of the past.

This continuity has necessitated efficient organization and long views. It is one of the sources of strength of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana)—one of its secrets of service.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is an organization of many thousands of men and women, changing in personnel slowly and inevitably with the years—but unchanging in high principle and steadfast purpose.

Thus it has been able to serve 30 million people with ever-increasing efficiency and ever-widening vision. Not by lucky accident has it won its place in their lives. The great position it holds today is the result of generations of steady striving, of earnest effort.

MARCUS LOEW, MOTION PICTURE MAGNATE, DEAD

Rose from "Newsie" to Head 300 Theater Chain

Glen Cowie, L. I., Sept. 5.—[Special.]—Marcus Loew, motion picture magnate and multimillionaire theater owner, died in his sleep at his home here early today. He was 55 years old.

Mr. Loew had been in ill health since last November, when he was stricken with pneumonia while in Los Angeles. Two weeks ago he left Pembroke, his home here, for Saratoga Springs in the hope of benefiting his health, but was brought back last week. The physical condition of Mr. Loew had been a matter of concern for some time. He had been suffering from a heart ailment for many months. His condition became worse in Saratoga. Saturday he was taken by motor to Albany where his private yacht met him and brought him to Pembroke.

Headed Theater Chain.
President of the Metro-Goldwyn Pictures corporation and head of a chain of 300 theaters throughout the United States, Mr. Loew launched his career as a theater owner in Brooklyn with the purchase of the old Palace. A song especially written for the American war mothers by Edgar Howard Ford and which has been set to the music of "La Golondrina." Senor Placencia has been chosen by the war mothers to sing this song as "La Golondrina" is the "Home Sweet Home" of his native land, and familiar to him from his cradle days.

Quin Ryan, W-G-N's sports and feature announcer, will give another of those interesting "Rambles of a Radio Announcer" between 9:15 and 9:30 tonight. The scene of tonight's "Ramble" has not been disclosed but Quin promises an interesting fifteen minutes.

The New York novelty hour, between 8 and 9 o'clock, again brings before the microphone Nathaniel Shilkret and his orchestra in another of their varied modern programs. The closing moments of this program will be devoted to a dance period and Mr. Shilkret has arranged a surprise selection to open this popular part of the evening's offering.

DEMANDS CLOSE OF BEACHES WITH NO LIFE GUARDS

Recommendation was made yesterday by a coroner's jury investigating the drowning of 17 year old Marion Haxton, 7034 Overhill street, Edison Park, that all beaches not provided with life guards be closed. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

A checkup with beach officials along the north shore, however, revealed that all beaches under the control of municipalities are provided with life guards. They have no control over private beaches, where permission of the estate owner is usually required for swimming.

AUSTEN COLGATE, SOAP CO. OFFICER, DIES AT CAMP

New York, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Austen Colgate, an official of Colgate & Co., died at his Barnegat, N. J., fishing camp today. The Colgate home is in Orange, N. J.

Besides his connection with the Colgate company, Mr. Colgate was a director in the Austen Security company, the Seven Oaks company, and the Sundh Electric company.

Mrs. Johanna Meagher, 79, Resident Here 60 Years, Dies

Mrs. Johanna O'Rourke Meagher, widow of Rafferty Meagher who at the time of his death was a city sealer, died yesterday at her home, 447 Sheridan road. Mrs. Meagher had lived for sixty of her 79 years in Chicago. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 9:30 a. m. at St. Mary's of the Lake church, Sheridan road and Euclid. Burial will be at Calvary cemetery.

No Indigestion!

He used to suffer after eating—but no more! He carries instantaneous relief in his pocket. Hearty eaters—hard smokers—high livers—find Stuart's a boon and blessing! Why have a sour stomach—or risk a bad breath? One or two tablets, and your stomach has the alkaline it needs or serene digestion. And you haven't turned your stomach with soda; only nothing things like magnesium and calcium carbonate are used in Stuart's.

Wherever you find a drugstore, you'll find Stuart's. The handy metal cap to carry in purse or pocket, is a wonder. The large size for 60 cts., the family size, $1.20. A sweet stomach for twenty-five cents.

EDUCATION TAKES RANK NOW AMONG BIG INDUSTRIES

BY HARPER LEECH.

Education is the leading American industry, said Joseph Choate many years ago.

It is a safe guess that more persons are thinking about that industry today than are interested in the stock market, provisions or the grain pit.

As the schools open it may be appropriate to consider the American investment in education.

More than $2,000,000,000 will be expended from public funds in this school year on about 45 per cent of the children of school age—some 30,000,000. This is more than the cost of army, navy, police, and fire protection put together.

In 1917 cities of over 10,000 inhabitants spent for education in 1925 totaled $1,877,128, aside from interest paid on public school indebtedness, which amounted to $874,084,314.

Cost of operating and maintaining the schools was 37.5 per cent of all city expenditures, and school debt represents 28.1 per cent of all city debts.

The value of school property in these cities was $5,000,000,000 in 1925.

The budget for the whole country, covering 1926-27, shows that in 1924-25 was $1,838,743,000, and state, university and other publicly supported institutions of higher learning put together total near or over two billions.

The income of privately supported colleges and universities is about $140,000,000, of which endowment income accounts for $70,000,000, tuition fees the other half.

Such are the grand totals of the greatest adventure in popular literacy this old world has staged.

But impressive as are the totals, the rate of growth is even more significant, because it indicates something as to what future expenditures will be.

In the thirty-five years from 1890 to 1925 the national industrial conference board's calculations are that our expenditures for education were multiplied by 14, while population increased only 23 per cent.

Such are the grand totals of the greatest adventure in popular literacy this old world has staged.

By eliminating all such factors as the decreased purchasing-power of the dollar this analysis reaches the conclusion that the real expenditure per child per school day increased about 2 per cent annually from 1890 to 1925.

We have spent more upon each school child every year at a rate in excess of our present rate of population increase.

The real increase in our national wealth is also probably not much in excess of 1.5 per cent annually.

State and Municipal Loans for 1927 Exceed Billion

Announcement was made yesterday that for the second time in the history of American finance loans floated by various states and municipal corporations during the eight months ending Aug. 31 exceeded the billion dollar mark. Back in 1924 the total for a like period was $1,044,503,235. This year the aggregate amount of new issues reaches $1,611,660,771, a figure $566,000 ahead of the 1925 total.

6 1/2% First Mortgage Real Estate Serial Gold Bonds

Dated August 1, 1927 Due Serially 1929-1937

Interest coupons payable semi-annually February 1st and August 1st. Callable at 105 and accrued interest; bonds and coupons payable at office of Wollenberger & Co., normal federal income tax up to 2% paid. Denominations: $1000, $500 and $100.

SECURITY: These bonds are secured by first mortgage on the land owned in fee (50 feet x 100 feet) at 6529-6531 Kenwood Avenue and 10-story fireproof, furnished apartment building to be erected thereon.

APPRAISAL: The land has been independently appraised at $45,000. The value of the building with furnishings and equipment is independently appraised at $355,000. The total security is thus $400,000, making this a 50% loan.

EARNINGS: The annual net income, after allowing for taxes, operating expenses and vacancies, is estimated at $45,000, over three times the greatest annual interest charges on this bond issue.

LOCATION: The Gothic Apartments will be ideally located only a few blocks from Jackson Park. Within a radius of two blocks are the 67th Street station of the electrified Illinois Central Railroad, two surface car lines, the elevated rapid transit line and a motor coach line. In addition to enjoying ideal transportation, the Gothic Apartments will be within a short walking distance of two excellent shopping and theatre centers.

PRICE: 100 and accrued interest, to yield 6 1/2%.

We recommend these bonds as a safe investment.

No investor in our First Mortgage Real Estate Gold Bonds has ever lost a dollar of principal or interest.

REPORTS EUROPE REGAINING HER BUSINESS NERVE

U. S. Commerce Official Returns from Survey.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 5.—(Special.)—Improved economic conditions in Europe are reported by Dr. Julius Klein, director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, who was one of the American delegates to the international economic conference at Geneva and participated in the meeting of the international chamber of commerce at Stockholm.

"European business, on the whole, has, for some time, been showing convincing evidence of recovery," said Dr. Klein. "Not the least important has been the gradual disappearance of the mental hazard and the gradual strengthening of business morale."

"An encouraging spirit is spreading in commercial and industrial circles, which previously had been under a cloud of despair. There is a growing conviction that the problem is one of trade dislocation rather than downright destruction. It is realized that the phantom of the 'war normalcy' is not only inexpedient but futile, that a new economic world has come into being, requiring adjustment to a new and improved business environment."

Dr. Klein said industry in the old world had still many unfavorable spots, but, on the whole, the recovery in recent months had been gratifying.

"Strikes have decreased in almost every important manufacturing center," he declared. "Throughout central Europe the number of industrial disturbances has fallen off nearly sixty per cent below 1925 figures. Industrial production generally has risen steadily. Steel exports of Europe for 1927 will show for the first time a substantial gain—probably about twenty per cent—in volume over 1926."

"All of this bodes well for the future," he declared. "Through the strengthening of business morale."

GRAIN MARKETS CLOSED

All American grain markets and Winnipeg were closed on Monday. Inspectors worked on a number of the largest grain receiving elevators, and it is expected that between 1,500 and 1,600 cars of grain will be received today. The Liverpool wheat market closed steady.

and current liabilities to $1,175,393 at the end of 1926.

This left net working capital of $7,533,445, which compares with $4,751,223 at the end of 1925.

The company is paying dividends at the annual rate of 60 cents on its common stock.

In addition, it has paid extra dividends of 5 cents in each of the last four quarters.

The common stock is of medium grade and speculative.

The preferred is rather high grade.

FARM AND GARDEN BY FRANK RIDGWAY

Illinois' wheat crop was cut short thousands of bushels this season by stinking smut which has become a serious epidemic in many sections of the state. It has been spreading from field to field, causing grain growers the heaviest loss they have suffered in six years.

Something must be done about it or farmers will suffer even a greater loss in the future. Entomologists are alarmed and are at work trying to encourage wheat raisers to use measures to control the pest. The natural history survey entomologists warn farmers against the danger of stinking smut and urge them to treat their wheat this fall in order to keep the pest from spreading to other farms and to protect their own fields.

Entomologists explain that stinking smut is also known as bunt and is a disease hard to recognize in the field but easy to control. Forbs of Urbana says that if seed wheat is disinfected before planting and if certain precautions are taken at the time of threshing, the loss can be reduced to an almost negligible amount.

Stinking smut, according to entomologists, grows in the heads of grain and has a disagreeable odor. The kernels are replaced by smut balls. Since the kernel is not greatly deformed, experts find it easier to detect the smut by smell than sight.

Grain infested with smut is usually cooked when it is brought to market. Elevator men know it by the unpleasant odor. Dockage has cost grain growers in Illinois many thousands of dollars on this year's wheat crop.

Expect Central Illinois Mines to Reopen Soon

Pana, Ill., Sept. 5.—(Special.)—Leaders of the United Mine Workers in Pana and central Illinois expressed the opinion here today that the operators-miners conference at Chicago Wednesday would result in an agreement under which mining would resume in the Illinois fields within less than thirty days. They reported information that many central Illinois mines were being repaired, principal among them being the Hillboro Coal company mine owned by Rice Miller, president of the Central Competitors Operators association, where the seal has been broken and the fan started.

Good Outlook at Benton.

Benton, Ill., Sept. 5.—(Special.)—Company employees in close touch with the coal operators in this section believe miners will be back at work by Sept. 15. All side tracks adjacent to the mines in this territory are rapidly being filled with empty coal cars.

FURTHER STEPS TAKEN TO REFUND LIBERTY BONDS

Treasury Notes for Cash or Exchange.

(Chicago Tribune From Service.)
Washington, D. C., Sept. 6.—[Special.]—Further steps in the program for refunding the Second Liberty loan were announced today by acting Secretary of the Treasury Ogden Mills.

Three and five year three and one-half per cent treasury notes, dated Sept. 15, are to be offered both for cash and in exchange for Second Liberty loan converted four and one-quarter per cent bonds.

By means of this issue of securities the treasury hopes to absorb the Second Liberty loan bonds, now totaling less than $1,200,000,000, which have been called for redemption on Nov. 15 and which will cease to bear interest on that date. The treasury by issues of bonds announced in June has already retired more than $1,600,000,000 of the Second Liberties.

Offer Certificates Also.
Simultaneously, the treasury is offering three per cent certificates of indebtedness, also dated Sept. 15, but maturing in six months. The amount of this issue will be limited to $250,000,000 or thereabouts.

As an inducement to holders of Second Liberty bonds to turn them in advance of the redemption date a slight premium is offered, the treasury proposing to receive exchange subscriptions at 100½. Interest on the Second Liberty bonds accepted in this manner will be paid in full Nov. 15.

The exchange offer does not apply to the 4 per cent Second Liberty loan bonds, of which there is only a relatively small amount outstanding.

Gives Present Statistics.
"The total amount of the Second Liberty loan, issued on Nov. 15, 1917, was $5,807,865,000," said Acting Secretary Mills. "When the refunding of this loan was begun in March last $3,104,520,000 remained outstanding. On March 15 $1,300,456,480 of these bonds were refunded into 3½ per cent treasury notes of 1940-45, and on June 15 a further amount of $455,255,000 was refunded into 3½ per cent treasury bonds of 1945-47. Further reductions were made through purchases for sinking fund account and from surplus money.

"As a result of all these operations, the amount of Second Liberty loan bonds outstanding at the present time is something less than $1,200,000,000, of which $1,180,894,480 are second 4½s. The issue of the new treasury notes in exchange for these bonds is in furtherance of the treasury's refunding program. Except for the premium, the present exchange offering is substantially the same as that of March 15 last."

In the Dark

Thousands of Chicago men and women have a "Social" Disease and DON'T KNOW IT!

IT IS conservatively estimated that 100,000 Chicagoans have a "Social" Disease and are completely in the dark regarding their infection.

Many of these people inherited the disease. Others contracted it by means of a towel, a drinking cup or some other article of general use.

Worse still, thousands of innocent wives have acquired "Social" Diseases from husbands who either were unaware of their infection or had supposed themselves to be cured.

The distressing thing about these unsuspected "Social" Diseases is that nothing is being done to arrest them. Thus countless men are slowly developing insanity, paralysis or heart disease; countless women are doomed to submit to serious pelvic operations, and countless babies are destined to be born with unsound minds or sightless eyes.

Almost any reader of this advertisement may be one of the thousands who have a "Social" Disease and don't know it! Fortunately, there is an easy, certain way to find out. Simply consult your family physician, or come to the Public Health Institute for a thorough examination.

Women and Children

A special department exclusively for women and children, with women assisting as nurses and attendants, is located at 72 East Randolph Street. Every facility is provided here for effective treatment, and the utmost privacy with the highest degree of comfort is assured.

At the Public Health Institute both men and women are examined in privacy and comfort. Organized for public service NOT FOR PROFIT, the Institute's examination fee is so very moderate that even the smallest wage earner can afford it.

The Public Health Institute is open from 10 A. M. to 8 P. M. daily except Sunday, enabling you to be examined during your lunch hour, after work or in the evening. A staff of 30 registered physicians assures prompt attention.

It is especially important that you be examined if you have any affliction which is puzzling and persistent. The same is true of many childless wives, and of women who suffer from mysterious ailments.

In fact, every person should be examined if only to make absolutely certain that he or she is free from "Social" Diseases. Such an examination may save you from life-long disability or even worse!

Illustrated booklet sent FREE

An intimately-written illustrated booklet, telling more about the menace of "Social" Diseases and the Public Health Institute's unequalled facilities for their cure, will be sent FREE in a plain envelope on request. Address Public Health Institute, 159 North Dearborn Street, Chicago.

If You're Too Thin Exercise Will Whet an Illusive Appetite

"I work in an office and never take any exercise. I would love to swim and play tennis, but I am too self-conscious of my thinness. I believe I am about as pretty in a bathing suit as the well-known scorecard. I certainly am disappointed, as I turn down more good invitations for this reason. I could be most popular, but I hide away from people because I imagine they are discussing my thinness."

"Gossiping."

Hiding away from people will assist only in developing attacks of melancholia that will further deplete the figure of flesh. One of the things a girl who would gain weight cannot afford to do is to avoid occasions of fun. It is part of the business of putting on weight. A buoyant spirit is half the battle, really.

Swimming is not recommended until more weight is put on. But swimming is the ideal way of helping yourself along. If there is one thing swimming will do, it is to create an appetite. Also, it contributes to an all-round feeling of well-being that self-consciousness will rule itself out if you take your courage in hand and swim.

Every girl in office work should take exercise. It is tragic that more health and sports clubs aren't organized among workers, so that they will be driven into exercise through the fun of competitive games. Group exercise is always more fun and more beneficial than individual attempts to keep the muscles in good shape. However, girls are beginning to realize the value of swimming clubs and other recreational forms of exercise, as I see in the attendance at swimming pools the year around in some cities.

An appetite for food, which excessively thin people are without, can be created by sheer will power. A taste for milk can be cultivated, and for any and all of the fattening food items. But if the will to eat it must be built up by some form of exercise daily. And, as I say, it is to sports that one should turn for exercise—sports in which fun is shared.

I would never advocate a strenuous exercise course of gymnastic movements, dumbbell work or any of the prescribed setting up systems, for the underweight girl. Walking and swim-

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Fudge Cake.

Having once put our shoulder to the wheel, as it were, in this matter of discovering what chocolate cakes are the most practical, most palatable and withal the least expensive, we settled upon the following recipe for fudge cake which was given over the radio and credited to one of the evaporated milk companies. One cup of sugar, one tablespoon of butter, one egg, three-fourths of a cup of milk, or else a mixture of half evaporated milk and half water equal to three-fourths of a cup, one cup of flour, two tablespoons of baking powder, one-fourth teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of vanilla, two squares of chocolate. Cream the butter and cream into it the sugar and the yolk of the egg. Add to it the milk, then the flour, salt and baking powder sifted together. Add melted chocolate and vanilla and lastly add the beaten white of egg and bake at 350 degrees from forty to fifty minutes in the shape of a small loaf, or bake the ordinary time if made in two layers for a chocolate layer cake.

We baked this in two layers and put it together with the chocolate icing. We baked another cake by this recipe with fresh milk and baked it in the same dish which is used for baking a loaf of bread. In this form with a white gelatin icing, we thought it quite superior. It was as moist as a cake with six or eight times as much butter, in fact it was like an old fashioned cake. We tried it on a summer widower not far away, and he brought to our door, closing his lips firmly, the following statement on the card: "The secretary was instructed to cast a unanimous ballot in favor."

We also summoned in a young woman to taste of this cake, telling her that we wished to watch her while she tasted it. She entered into the business with the reply, "All right, are you ready?" She was ready and said that her answer would correspond to that on the card we had just received.

ming are her two best bets. And, while these are being indulged in, investigations into the right kind of menus to follow for weight gaining should be made and subscribed to.

She's Only 18, but She's Afraid of Being a 'Tame Girl'

BY DORIS BLAKE

Irene is 18 and a "tame girl," she says. She has been brought up to be a mother's apron string, but now that she is getting older she would like to get some pep in herself.

"I have never been a very peppy girl at roadshows, for instance," she says. "I don't want to be a 'real peppy fellow' and she tells her about the good times she had with girls who drink and smoke and go on wild parties—'peppy' girls, she calls them.

"I don't want to be a 'tame girl' all my life," Irene communicates, "because I think this boy would like me better if I had more pep."

Mother's apron strings, I fear, had better be drawn in a bit tighter. Any way, she ought not to relax her vigilance now that daughter has reached the bean stage. She ought to know what ideas boys are trying to put into daughter's head. To know this, she might take pains to cultivate the boys, and by all means, exclude those that talk roadshows and wild parties.

In the meantime, Irene, while mother is checking up on your boy friends, I wish you'd revise your ambitions and let those who will be "peppy" be it.

You might observe that this boy who has parted with the other type of girl is interested in you. So there must be charm in your "angel face" manners. Not that I think he is a creditable boy friend. Nevertheless, he does read a side of the male character it would be well for you to recognize early. The "peppy" ones they do talk about, don't they? And when they're tired of them they turn to you, kind. If you adopt the other type's methods, what is going to save you from an early discard?

Another item you might jot down in your notebook is that "pep," as you interpret it, is not, listed among the notable virtues desired in a wife. The tame girl wears better and none knows it better than the man familiar with the other kind.

Aside from all this, do you honestly think a roadshow party ambition a worthy one? You must be a simple child to express it, even. But keep that simplicity. It's a tremendous seller, where men are concerned. They love girls with it. Don't spoil it, whatever you do, by ever being seen in one of those places. Reputations have been ruined by simply being seen in a roadhouse.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

(Registered U. S. Patent Office.)

CHILD'S DRESS.
This cunning dress for small girls is made with plaits that are stitched part way from the shoulders, and then released to flare wide in motion. Shown white cotton voile printed in green, red and blue, and trimmed with dark blue grosgrain tulle, a dark blue dimity blue cotton, flowered dimity, white lace, and a wide white lace collar. The pattern, 3115, comes in sizes 2, 4 and 6 years. Size 4 requires 1 1/2 yards of 36 inch material.

YOU AND YOUR CHILDREN

Mrs. Gladys Harrington Demko

Hands Off! or
"Let Me Do It Myself."
"M-O," he spelled his finger following the letters, "n-o-p, m-o-p—wait a minute, that's not right—m-o-p—don't tell me!" I broke off almost frantically, "I can get it—m-o-p—I've got it, MONOPOLANE!" he ended in triumph.

The baby was trying to push the little gate open. She grunted, she got red in the face—but the gate wouldn't move. Her nurse put her hands on it, when "Let me do it myself!" almost shrieked the baby. And she worked and kicked and pushed until at last the gate gave way. Her face beamed with satisfaction. It wasn't because the gate was open. It was because she had done it all by herself. It isn't the little child's desire. It is the struggle toward the end in view, and the accomplished fact as a result of his own unaided efforts that satisfies him.

"Let me do it myself!" Let me do it all by myself! It is the constant cry of your children, and older ones, too—in a word of people who help them to do things that they can do for themselves. That's where the value of the doing lies.

Sometimes it takes them so long to do things that it makes us nervous. We could do it in half the time. Sometimes they work so hard that we can scarcely keep our hands off.

We want to help them. But we mustn't. That is not what they want. It is the passionate necessity for self-activity that is expressing itself. Try to allow them time enough to do things in their own way. Try to understand and be patient. When they say, "Let me do it all by myself," keep your hands off.

(Copyright, 1927, by The Chicago Tribune.)

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Attie Boy!

One time when my small brother and I were going to visit our grandmother, father wrote to a friend in Omaha asking him to help us change trains. When he met us, he insisted that we spend the night at his home.

The next morning at the breakfast table I said that it was very kind of them to have us in their home and you can imagine my embarrassment when brother piped up, "Dad said you would probably take us to your house."
